MANY BILLS PREPARED TO HIT ACT 561

Twenty bills to repeal Act 561—the school reorganization bill—have already been prepared for submission to the forthcoming session of the state legislature, Gettysburg Superintendent of Schools H. Edgar Riegle told the Rotary Club at its meeting Monday evening in the YWCA.

Riegle outlined the provisions of Act 561 requiring reorganization of school districts into larger units. Each county board of school directors is required to submit a plan to the state by the end of this year. If that plan is not acceptable the state will draw up its own plan for reorganization of the county.

Riegle said the present law leaves "a great number of questions unanswered and, in addition to the bills being prepared for the legislature to repeal the law, there are also a number of bills being prepared to amend it and to spell out various provisions of the law."

Act 561 followed a report by a governor's committee on education which "covered the entire field of education. Reorganization was the only part the state legislature adopted. The first school reorganization bill was passed in 1894, and another was passed in 1911. Both gave permission for enlargement of school areas. But there was very little action toward enlargement. The 1894 law permitted jointures, but it was 54 years before the first joint system was adopted. The 1911 law permitted mergers but 50 years later only 72 had been formed."

Asked whether technical schools would be possible in Adams County under the school reorganization program Riegle said it would be possible but questioned whether "we would want to pay the cost." He said suggestions have been made for area technical schools in York and Franklin Counties with Adams County students going there if they wish. He also held that the new high school here "has pretty nice shops and equipment."

He added that "we do a pretty good job for the academic student" in the school systems, but held that improvement can be made in providing training facilities for nonacademic oriented students.

Allen Knouse, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Knouse, was introduced as the student Rotarian for December. Sale of tickets by Rotarians for the Pittsburgh Symphony totaled $332.50 Rev. Robert MacAskill reported.

Fred Martin, 408 York St., shot a six-point buck weighing 176 pounds, one of the biggest deer killed in this area on opening day. He made the kill about 11:45 a.m. Monday in Cumberland Twp. The buck had six points.

Herbert Wetzel, Woernersville, associate Berks County farm agent, killed an eight-point today in Franklin Twp.

AUDIENCE IS THRILLED BY PITT CONCERT

Music lovers almost filled the Gettysburg High School auditorium Monday evening to hear the Pittsburgh Symphony Orchestra present a program of Beethoven, Handel, Bizet and Tchaikovsky under the brilliant baton of Herbert Grossman.

The enthusiasm of the crowd resulted in two encores and numerous curtain calls for the young associate conductor and the 90-piece orchestra.

The program featured Godfrey Layefsky in Handel's Concerto for Viola and Orchestra in b Minor. He was a member of the Metropolitan Opera Orchestra for 12 years before joining the Pittsburgh Symphony in 1957. His orchestra career began at the age of 21 when he was chosen to play with the Cleveland orchestra.

The orchestra's presentation of Bizet's "Jeux d'Enfants," Opus 22, was brilliantly directed by Grossman.

THRILL AUDIENCE

Tchaikovsky's "Symphony No. 4 in f Minor" thrilled the audience with the moving passages from Shero, Pizzicato and Allegro and the Finale was presented by Mr. Grossman in the color and passion of the composer's personality.

Mr. Grossman, who joined the Pittsburgh group last season, has directed performance of the New York City Opera, the Modern Lyric Theater, Bavarian State Orchestra and the Vienna Symphony. He was guest conductor of the Baltimore Symphony in 1955-56 and in 1958 was appointed associate conductor of that group. He was selected by the Pittsburgh Orchestra in the spring of 1962.

The Gettysburg appearance of the Pittsburgh Symphony was sponsored by the Columbia Gas Company, Inc., and 18 cooperating clubs in Adams County. They were: AAUW, Annie Warner Hospital Auxiliary, Business and Professional Women, Friends of the Library, Gettysburg Exchange, Soroptimists, Gettysburg Woman's Club, Junior Chamber of Commerce, Kiwanis, Rotary Clubs of Gettysburg and Littlestown, Woman's League of Gettysburg College, Xi Alpha Chi Chapter, Beta Sigma Phi, Hunterstown Ruritan Club and the Lions Clubs of Fairfield, Gettysburg, New Oxford and Upper Adams.

The executive committee for the concert was comprised of Kenneth G. Reinhart Jr., Henry Scharf, Paul Roy and Julian Estep.

FANTASYLAND WILL BE ON TV

A special Christmas program to especially entertain children has been made at Fantasyland on the Taneytown Rd., which will be televised by WCAU-TV, Philadelphia, December 15, it was announced today by Mrs. Kenneth Dick, one of the proprietors of the storybook park.

It will be presented as "A Christmas Gift" for the children from 3:30 to 4:30 p.m.

The hour-long program will feature "Pixanne," a local television star, "who was looking for Santa Claus. She stopped at Mother Goose, the Old Woman's Shoe, Rapunzel's Castle, stopped to look at her reflection in the Fairy Lake, then followed the path into the Enchanted Forest to talk to all of the storybook characters there. She finally wound up at Santa's Village, and after going through all of the little shops and whispering in the deer's ears, and they whispered back, she finally bumped into Santa. The sound was prerecorded, so she danced all the way through the forest and sang many songs."

Donations were voted to the Muscular Dystrophy fund, the Salvation Army and the Adams County TB Society.

Local Girl Sings In Joint Concerts

Miss Janet C. Richardson, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Norman E. Richardson, Oak Ridge, will sing with the Wells College Choir and the Williams College Glee Club at Wells, Aurora, N.Y., on December 8. Miss Richardson is a Freshman at Wells.

U.S. Rejects Robot Plan Of Policing Bomb Tests

By TOM OCHILTREE
GENEVA (AP)—The United States rejected today the "black box" system of unmanned robot seismic stations as a foolproof method of policing a ban on underground nuclear tests.

U.S. Ambassador Arthur H. Dean told the 17-nation disarmament conference that the Soviet Union's own scientists recognized that the black boxes could not by themselves provide the complete answer to enforcing a test ban.

"Initial studies," Dean said, "lead us to believe that substantial numbers of these stations would be required before there could be any reduction in the number of required on-site inspections. And even then an appropriate

Times Sponsors WGET Airing Of Choir Concert

The broadcast of the 28th annual Christmas concert to be presented twice over the weekend will again be sponsored by The Gettysburg Times. Station WGET will air the Sunday night concert, beginning at 8 o'clock, over its AM and FM outlets.

The concerts will be presented by the Gettysburg College Choir of 65 voices under the direction of Prof. B. Wagnild, and the 75-voice Chapel Choir under the direction of Prof. Dexter N. Weikel. Saturday night's concert, which will not be broadcast, will begin at 7:30 o'clock.

Both concerts will be presented in Christ Chapel.

LEGION WILL HOLD KIDDIES' PARTY DEC. 21

Members of the Albert J. Lentz Post of the American Legion, were urged at Monday evening's meeting in the Legion home on Baltimore St., to "pay your 1963 dues before December 31 and assure 50 cents more for the post."

Membership chairman Kenneth Selby and adjutant William T. Timmins Jr., stressed that national dues will be increased by 50 cents January 1, while the dues paid by the members of the local post will not increase. As a result all who pay their dues before January 1 will provide the post with 50 cents more than it will receive from the dues paid after January 1.

So far 300 of the 801 members have paid their 1963 dues, Timmins reported.

Selby also reported on preliminary plans for a shrimp feed to be held for the members.

KIDDIES PARTY

Plans were announced for the annual Kiddies Christmas party for children of members to be held at 6:30 p.m. December 21 at the post home, and for a New Year's Eve party to be held at the Legion home December 31, starting at 9:30 p.m.

A report by Richard Fox on a 22nd District meeting at York showed Carroll Noel, adjutant of the Hanover post and well known from attendance at functions of the local Legion, has been named first vice commander of the district. Another reported showed the Pennsylvania Department of the American Legion will give each child at Scotland School $5 on December 10 as a Christmas present.

New members accepted by the post were William L. Mellors, 236 E. Middle St.; Frank M. Merriam, Gettysburg R. 1; Harold W. R. Brown, 22 Mummaburg St.; and Paul C. Stoner, Fairfield R. 1.

Donations were voted to the Muscular Dystrophy fund, the Salvation Army and the Adams County TB Society.

NAME H. LOWER TO AUTHORITY

Members of the Upper Adams school board Monday evening elected Henry Lower, Butler Twp., to a five-year term on the Upper Adams County School Authority, effective January 1. He succeeds Roy Gettier, whose term will expire on that date. The board also re-elected O. C. Rice Jr., president, and Dean Asquith, vice president.

The board, under Acting President John R. Pitzer, authorized the payment of bills totaling $72,500, of which $34,451 was payroll and $3,853 was for transportation. Rental payments for the elementary buildings was authorized in the amount of $28,000.

Secretary David Houck told the board that the district has earned final reimbursement from the state of 88.39 per cent of annual rentals for bonds and interest, but will be unable to collect the full amount because the school's building program did not follow state specifications in their entirety.

Dean asked Soviet Delegate Sergeyon K. Tsarapkin to give a precise statement of Moscow's view on the value of the black boxes.

Tsarapkin revived the subject in the nuclear negotiations Monday when he declared the Soviet government supports the black boxes concept and believes such a network of unmanned detection stations can help prevent test ban violations.

The Soviet delegate left the impression that Moscow thinks the black boxes, plus existing national detection systems, would eliminate the need for on-site inspections.

Dean challenged that concept.

TOWN COUNCIL ELECTS KUHN AS TREASURER

Charles E. Kuhn, 286 Ridge Ave., was appointed borough treasurer effective January 1 by town council at its meeting Monday evening in the engine house, E. Middle St.

Kuhn, elected borough building official last month, will hold both jobs, according to the decision of council. Borough Solicitor Donald G. Oyler said he could see no conflict between the two positions which would prevent Kuhn from serving in both capacities. Other candidates for the post were Jacob G. Appier and William H. Pensyl.

Harry D. Ridinger, who has resigned as treasurer effective December 31 because of his election as assemblyman from Adams County, was praised by council for his work. He said he regretted leaving the post "because of the association with you men and women" and that he will instruct Kuhn in his duties.

NO FREE PARKING

A request from the Retail Merchants Association that the town permit free parking in the metered areas December 21, 22 and 24 was turned down.

Both the borough solicitor and Attorney John D. Thrush, councilman and chairman of the borough's ordinance committee, said their studies of the present ordinance governing metered parking show that the ordinance will not permit council to designate free parking days.

The letter from the Retail Merchants Association noted that other communities in the area have provided "free parking" in metered areas during the Christmas season and noted the success of a

MANY BILLS PREPARED TO HIT ACT 561

Twenty bills to repeal Act 561—the school reorganization bill—have already been prepared for submission to the forthcoming session of the state legislature, Gettysburg Superintendent of Schools H. Edgar Riegle told the Rotary Club at its meeting Monday evening in the YWCA.

Riegle outlined the provisions of Act 561 requiring reorganization of school districts into larger units. Each county board of school directors is required to submit a plan to the state by the end of this year. If that plan is not acceptable the state will draw up its own plan for reorganization of the county.

Riegle said the present law leaves "a great number of questions unanswered and, in addition to the bills being prepared for the legislature to repeal the law, there are also a number of bills being prepared to amend it and to spell out various provisions of the law."

STARTED IN 1854

Act 561 followed a report by a governor's committee on education which "covered the entire field of education. Reorganization was the only part the state legislature adopted. The first school reorganization bill was passed in 1854, and another was passed in 1911. Both gave permission for enlargement of school areas. But there was very little action toward enlargement. The 1854 law permitted jointures, but it was 54 years before the first joint system was adopted. The 1911 law permitted mergers but 50 years later only 72 had been formed."

Asked whether technical schools would be possible in Adams County under the school reorganization program Riegle said it would be possible but questioned whether "we would want to pay the cost." He said suggestions have been made for area technical schools in York and Franklin Counties with Adams County students going there if they wish. He also held that the new high school here "has pretty nice shops and equipment."

He added that "we do a pretty good job for the academic student" in the school systems, but held that improvement can be made in providing training facilities for nonacademic oriented students.

Allen Knouse, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Knouse, was introduced as the student Rotarian for December. Sale of tickets by Rotarians for the Pittsburgh Symphony totaled $332.50 Rev. Robert MacAskill reported.

MANY NIMRODS REPORT KILLS

Fred Martin, 408 York St., shot a six-point buck weighing 176 pounds, one of the biggest deer killed in this area on opening day. He made the kill about 11:45 a.m. Monday in Cumberland Twp. The buck had six points.

Herbert Wetzel, Woernersville, associate Berks County farm agent, killed an eight-point today in Franklin Twp.

Donald L. Miller, S. Washington St., killed an eight-point deer in the Benderville area Monday morning about 11:45 o'clock. It weighed 125 pounds.

Robert Weikert, 15, son of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Weikert, Gettysburg R. 2, brought down his first deer at 11:15 a.m. Monday in Highland Twp. It was an eight-point buck weighing 100 pounds.

James Weikert, Harrisburg, a cousin of Robert, who was hunting with him, also shot his first deer Monday in Highland Twp. It was a seven-pointer weighing 135 pounds.

Deputy Sheriff Guy Seifert, Fairfield, killed a four-point buck Monday morning near Fairfield. He was hunting with his 12-year-old grandson, Guy, who bagged an eight-pointer weighing 150 pounds at 7:10 a.m.

Kenneth Guise, 47, Biglerville, accomplished Monday afternoon what his 20-year-old son, Larry, had done in the morning—shot a five-point buck. It was the first deer for each of them and each weighed about 125 pounds. Mr. Guise made his kill near the former Woodside school in Strabane Twp.

EXPENDITURES OF TOWN KEPT WITHIN BUDGET

Gettysburg has spent $170,744.13 during the first 11 months of the year according to the report of Borough Treasurer Harry D. Ridinger presented at Monday's meeting of council at the engine house.

The report shows $21,856.29 spent for general government, $61,338.54 for protection to persons and property, $56,395.78 for highways, $4,373.60 for miscellaneous, $11,167.79 for electricity and $15,612.13 for recreation. The town's current balance is $125,332.78.

Deardorff, who posted $750 bond for court following arraignment Sunday before Justice of the Peace John S. Gillan, Chambersburg, was arrested at 12:15 p.m. Saturday. Police said that as they attempted to halt Deardorff his car mounted the curb at an intersection and collided with a traffic sign, causing minor damage both to the car and sign post.

AUTO OVERTURNS

Linwood H. Bosserman, 23, New Oxford R. D., escaped injury Sunday night but his automobile was damaged to the amount of $600 when it left the highway a mile west of Brodbeck, York County, and overturned, state police reported.

Two Frogmen Lose Lives Trying To Set New Record

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP)—Two frogmen, seeking a diving record, dropped 1,000 feet into the sea—and something went wrong. One man was fatally stricken and another, coming to his aid, vanished in the depths.

Both were Englishmen taking part Monday in an experiment to see if a secret mixture of gases could enable man to survive deep in the sea.

Killed was Peter Small, 35, a reporter for the London Daily Telegraph. He apparently died of the bends.

Missing was Christopher Whitaker, 22, a geology student.

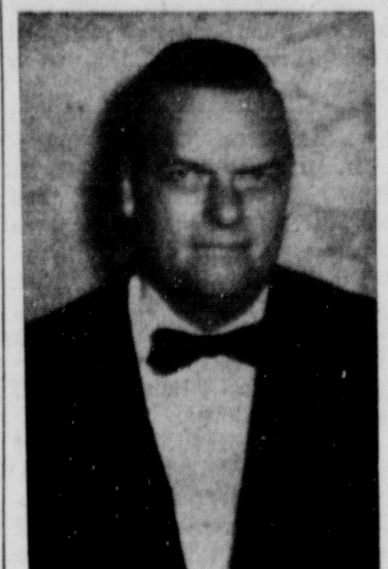

COLLAPSE IN BELL

Small and Hannes Keller, 28, a Swiss mathematician and skin-diver, went down off Santa Catalina Island in a diving bell. The men wore frogman suits and air tanks filled with a mixture of gases devised by Keller. Water was pulled into the bell to equalize pressure.

The bell dropped to 1,000 feet, the men opened the hatch and dropped two flags—Swiss and years. He is beginning the last of his current term as a director.

Mrs. Muriel Rice, W. Broadway, also beginning the last year of her current term, was chosen as the new vice president, succeeding Horace H. Waybright of Freedom Twp.

Monday's reorganization will stand only until July when Highland Twp. will become a part of the merged district and the three-district board will reorganize.

ASSIGNED TO COMMITTEES

Both offices were filled Monday without contests. President Deardorff presided until after the election.

The first official act of the new president was to reassign all present board members to their same committee posts. That list includes: Joint school committee, Robert H. Deardorff, Orrville B. Orner, Horace Waybright and John Reaves; finance and planning, Mr. Weaner and Norman L. Plank; property and supply, G. Jack Oyler and Dr. Jacob Heikinen; teacher and curriculum, Mrs. Rice and Mrs. Eleanor Cunningham; and transportation, Mr. Plank.

Before the reorganization, the directors examined October and November reports from the First National Bank, the school district treasurer, showing a December 3 balance of $81,946 in addition to the $75,000 the board has on interest. Expenses included recent payments of $32,922 and $70,000 sent to the joint board treasury.

AUDIENCE IS THRILLED BY PITT CONCERT

Music lovers almost filled the Gettysburg High School auditorium Monday evening to hear The Pittsburgh Symphony Orchestra present a program of Beethoven, Handel, Bizet and Tchaikovsky under the brilliant baton of Herbert Grossman.

The enthusiasm of the crowd resulted in two encores and numerous curtain calls for the young associate conductor and the 90-piece orchestra.

The program featured Godfrey Layefsky in Handel's Concerto for Viola and Orchestra in b Minor. He was a member of the Metropolitan Opera Orchestra for 12 years before joining the Pittsburgh Symphony in 1957. His orchestra career began at the age of 21 when he was chosen to play with the Cleveland orchestra.

The orchestra's presentation of Bizet's "Jeux d'Enfants," Opus 22, was brilliantly directed by Grossman.

THRILL AUDIENCE

Tchaikovsky's "Symphony No. 4 in f Minor" thrilled the audience with the moving passages from Shero, Pizzicato and Allegro and the Finale was presented by Mr. Grossman in the color and passion of the composer's personality.

Mr. Grossman, who joined the Pittsburgh group last season, has directed performance of the New York City Opera, the Modern Lyric Theater, Bavarian State Orchestra and the Vienna Symphony. He was guest conductor of the Baltimore Symphony in 1955-56 and in 1958 was appointed associate conductor of that group. He was selected by the Pittsburgh Orchestra in the spring of 1962.

The Gettysburg appearance of the Pittsburgh Symphony was sponsored by the Columbia Gas Company, Inc., and 18 cooperating clubs in Adams County. They were: AAUW, Annie Warner Hospital Auxiliary, Business and Professional Women, Friends of the Library, Gettysburg Exchange, Sonnetists, Gettysburg Woman's Club, Junior Chamber of Commerce, Kiwanis, Rotary Clubs of Gettysburg and Littlestown, Woman's League of Gettysburg College, Xi Alpha Chi Chapter, Beta Sigma Phi, Hunterstown Ruritan Club and the Lions Clubs of Fairfield, Gettysburg, New Oxford and Upper Merion.

The executive committee for the concert was comprised of Kenneth G. Reinhart Jr., Henry Scharf, Paul Roy and Julian Estep.

FANTASYLAND WILL BE ON TV

A special Christmas program to especially entertain children has been made at Fantasyland on the Taneytown Rd., which will be televised by WCAU-TV, Philadelphia, December 15, it was announced today by Mrs. Kenneth Dick, one of the proprietors of the storybook park.

It will be presented as "A Christmas Gift" for the children from 3:30 to 4:30 p.m.

The hour-long program will feature "Pixanne," a local television star, "who was looking for Santa Claus. She stopped at Mother Goose, the Old Woman's Shoe, Rapunzel's Castle, stopped to look at her reflection in the Fairy Lake, then followed the path into the Enchanted Forest to talk to all of the storybook characters there. She finally wound up at Santa's Village, and after going through all of the little shops and whispering in the deer's ears, and they whispered back, she finally bumped into Santa. The sound was prerecorded, so she danced all the way through the forest and sang many songs."

Children are invited to bring their own storybook characters to the Fantasyland.

Both concerts will be presented in Christ Chapel.

LEGION WILL HOLD KIDDIES' PARTY DEC. 21

Members of the Albert J. Lentz Post of the American Legion, were urged at Monday evening's meeting in the Legion home on Baltimore St., to "pay your 1963 dues before December 31 and assure 50 cents more for the post."

Membership chairman Kenneth Selby and adjutant William T. Timmins Jr., stressed that national dues will be increased by 50 cents January 1, while the dues paid by the members of the local post will not increase. As a result all who pay their dues before January 1 will provide the post with 50 cents more than it will receive from the dues paid after January 1.

So far 300 of the 801 members have paid their 1963 dues, Timmins reported.

Selby also reported on preliminary plans for a shrimp feed to be held for the members.

KIDDIES PARTY

Plans were announced for the annual Kiddies Christmas party for children of members to be held at 6:30 p.m. December 21 at the post home, and for a New Year's Eve party to be held at the Legion home December 31, starting at 9:30 p.m.

A report by Richard Fox on a 22nd District meeting at York showed Carroll Noel, adjutant of the Hanover post and well known from attendance at functions of the local Legion, has been named first vice commander of the district. Another reported showed the Pennsylvania Department of the American Legion will give each child at Scotland School $5 on December 10 as a Christmas present.

New members accepted by the post were William L. Mellors, 236 E. Middle St.; Frank M. Merriam, Gettysburg R. 1; Harold W. R. Brown, 22 Mummasburg St., and Paul C. Stoner, Fairfield R. 1.

Donations were voted to the Muscular Dystrophy fund, the Salvation Army and the Adams County TB Society.

Local Girl Sings In Joint Concerts

Miss Janet C. Richardson, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Norman E. Richardson, Oak Ridge, will sing with the Wells College Choir and the Williams College Glee Club at Wells, Aurora, N.Y., on December 8. Miss Richardson is a Freshman at Wells.

On December 16 the 62-member Wells Choir will again sing with Williams on the Williams campus. On December 19 the Wells and Hamilton College choirs will present a concert of Christmas music at St. Thomas Church in New York City.

U.S. Rejects Robot Plan Of Policing Bomb Tests

By TOM OCHILTREE
GENEVA (AP)—The United States rejected today the "black box" system of unmanned robot seismic stations as a foolproof method of policing a ban on underground nuclear tests.

U.S. Ambassador Arthur H. Dean told the 17-nation disarmament conference that the Soviet Union's own scientists recognized that the black boxes could not by themselves provide the complete answer to enforcing a test ban.

"Initial studies," Dean said, "lead us to believe that substantial numbers of these stations would be required before there could be any reduction in the number of required on-site inspections. And even then an appropriate number of on-site inspections would be required."

Dean challenged that concept.

TOWN COUNCIL ELECTS KUHN AS TREASURER

Charles E. Kuhn, 286 Ridge Ave., was appointed borough treasurer effective January 1 by town council at its meeting Monday evening in the engine house, E. Middle St.

Kuhn, elected borough building official last month, will hold both jobs, according to the decision of council. Borough Solicitor Donald G. Oyler said he could see no conflict between the two positions which would prevent Kuhn from serving in both capacities. Other candidates for the post were Jacob G. Appier and William H. Pensyl.

Harry D. Ridinger, who has resigned as treasurer effective December 31 because of his election as assemblyman from Adams County, was praised by council for his work. He said he regretted leaving the post "because of the association with you men and women" and that he will instruct Kuhn in his duties.

NO FREE PARKING

A request from the Retail Merchants Association that the town permit free parking in the metered areas December 21, 22 and 24 was turned down.

Both the borough solicitor and Attorney John D. Thrush, councilman and chairman of the borough's ordinance committee, said their studies of the present ordinance governing metered parking show that the ordinance will not permit council to designate free parking days.

The letter from the Retail Merchants noted that other communities in the area have provided "free parking" in metered areas during the Christmas season and noted the success of a Sale Days program earlier this year in which

Bermudian School News

By JOY NEIDIG and SHIRLEY CORNMANN

Three Bermudian Springs High School students have been awarded certificates for magazine sales totaling more than $100 each.

Junior Donovan Meyers, Sophomore Parker Lerew and Eighth Grader Kenneth Miller are the outstanding salesmen awarded at the Thanksgiving assembly held November 28. The three were among many recognized for their sales ability during the magazine sales campaign conducted this fall.

Junior Brenda Kohler read an essay during the assembly which she had recently presented on radio station WGCT. In her essay she noted the development of Thanksgiving Day and gave the students a menu for the traditional meal.

Principal Alfred Billett explained the new method of determining eligibility for the school's honor roll.

PA. DEMOCRATS TO FILL MINOR POSTS TODAY

HARRISBURG (AP) — State Senate Democrats headed for Harrisburg today to fill minority leadership posts in the chamber—a role to which the party was relegated in the Nov. 6 election.

They will be followed Tuesday by the House Democrats. Both caucuses will be held in the new House caucus room at the state Capitol.

There has been no public opposition brewing against the four Democratic incumbents returning for another legislative go-around on Capitol Hill: Floor leader Charles Weiner, Philadelphia; whip William J. Lane, Washington County; caucus chairman Israhel Stiefel, Philadelphia; and caucus secretary George J. Sarraf, Allegheny County.

NEED NEW LEADER

The House delegation, however, must find itself a new floor leader to replace Rep. Stephen McCann, who lost his seat in his unsuccessful bid as the Democratic candidate for lieutenant governor.

Thus far, three names have been mentioned most frequently as the likely successor to McCann. They are:

—Rep. J. Dean Polen, Washington County, the Democrats' appropriations expert who has worked closely with McCann in the handling of fiscal matters.

—Rep. Herbert Fineman, Philadelphia, a respected legislator, but one whose fate in the current selection depends to a great degree on the Senate results. It is doubtful the party's floor leaders both would be Philadelphians.

—Rep. John Gailey, York County, the legislator who has been called the young new face in the Democratic House ranks.

Other Democratic House officers who will return in January are Reps. Joshua Eilberg, Philadelphia, floor whip; Anthony J. Petrosky of Westmoreland County, caucus chairman, and Jules Filo, Allegheny County, caucus secretary.

FRAZIER, Pa. (AP) — Police said over the weekend that five employees of a Bargain City, U.S.A., discount store and four other persons have been arrested in the theft of merchandise valued at more than $6,000 during the past year. Eight were held in $500 bail each on larceny charges.

The ninth, a teen-ager, was turned over to juvenile aid authorities in Chester County.

ference held November 21 for those students interested in transportation careers. Students attending were Dorothy Myers, Susan Grim, Linda Hinkle, Alvin Griest, David Bricker, Dorale Starner, Paulette McIlwee, Barry Gause and Wanda Borrer.

Bermudian will participate in the Adams County Music Festival to be held at Littlestown High School on February 13. Evening rehearsals are scheduled for January 23 and 30.

The girls' ensemble members for the festival are Bonita Bower, Susan Bricker, Bonita Bubb, Helen Hankey, Linda Hinkle, Deborah Hoffman, Joy Neidig, Donna Roemer and Darlene Wonders.

English teacher Mrs. Lizzie Gary Davis left Tuesday to serve on an evaluation committee for Boonsboro High School, Boonsboro, Md. The committee has 16 members, two of whom are from Pennsylvania. Mrs. Davis will stay in Hagerstown until Friday.

Mr. Warrick attended Confluence School, graduated from Somerset Joint High School, entered Findlay College in Findlay, O., during the summer of 1956 and received the Bachelor of Arts degree with a major in English literature on June 7, 1959.

During World War II Mr. Warrick served in the Army, being honorably discharged for medical reasons on October 11, 1943. Following his discharge, he worked for the B. F. Goodrich Tire and Rubber Company in Akron, O., until September, 1949. He then operated a food market at Ursina, Pa., for seven years. While attending Findlay College he worked for the Cooper Tire and Rubber Company and served as a supply pastor.

Mr. Warrick has been serving as supply pastor of the Latimore Lutheran parish, York Springs, since February 1, 1961. The parish consists of the Chestnut Grove and the Lower Bermudian Churches. Dr. M. R. Hamsher will serve as vice pastor of this parish until a full-time pastor is called.

ADAMS HUNTER SUFFERS BURNS

Donald Meckley, 30, Abbottstown R. 1, and his uncle, Harold Auckey, 49, York, were burned Monday evening about 6 o'clock in an explosion and fire at Williams Cabins near Ansonia, Tioga County, where they had gone Saturday for the hunting season.

The two men had planned to return Wednesday from the hunting expedition into the "Pennsylvania Grand Canyon" section near Wellsboro.

Mrs. George E. Meckley, Abbottstown R. 1, mother of Donald Meckley and sister of Auckey, said today she had talked to Mr. Auckey by telephone at the hospital in Wellsboro Monday night, after learning of the accident, and he reported that neither was burned badly.

Auckey, Meckley and Guy Williams, 49, owner of the cabins, were reported outside the cabin when there was an explosion from an unknown cause which burned the three men and sent them to the hospital, Mrs. Meckley said.

Mr. Auckey, according to Mrs. Meckley, has gone to the Williams cabins to stay during the last 10 or 12 hunting seasons. His nephew has accompanied him the last several years. Donald Meckley is an employee of Hanover Tool.

Associated Press reports from Ansonia said all three men suffered second degree burns of the face, hands and neck. Auckey is also listed as having a fractured collarbone.

The explosion occurred in one of the motel's 10 units, all occupied by hunters. The unit and one adjoining it were destroyed by the flames.

FIFTY YEARS AGO

Local Items: Dougherty and Hartley have had brick pavement laid at their hitching posts in the Square. The bricks were laid in concrete mortar.

The large derrick at the federal building will come down this week. A heating plant will make work possible on the interior during the winter months. Considerable ground has been hauled to Broadway for preliminary work in the building of the parkway in the center of the street. The full plans for the work have not yet been adopted.

Will Build: A meeting of the congregation of College Lutheran Church was held on Monday evening and it was decided to erect a new parsonage on Springs Avenue on the lot adjoining that of Dr. J. Ellis Musselman. The house is to cost about $5,000 and will be built much like Dr. Musselman's residence with an additional three feet each way. The former parsonage was on Chambersburg Street and was recently bought by Charles Plank for $4,000. College Church is as yet without a pastor.

A Job Lot Of Collars: Some patent leather. All sizes, fit any horse. At your own price. C. C. Bream, Gettysburg, Pa.

Cashtown: Twelve of our young men known as the "Scout Sharp Shooters" brought in a large buck on Monday. The animal had about thirteen bullet wounds and there arose the question of who should claim the head and hide. The meat was divided but as yet the other matter is in dispute. The same organization produced the most remarkable hunting story of the season during the week. One morning about nine o'clock a deer was shot in one of its hind legs but not seen again until late in the afternoon. Then several shots were fired and the buck killed. Members of the party say that the fatal bullet first passed through a six-inch chestnut tree, then struck the animal's heart and finally lodged under its breast.

G. M. Bucher is putting up a wind pump from where he will force the water to a high point on his farm into a large reservoir and from there to the house and barn. He has a good spring which will give him a fine supply of water. He is also making other improvements on his farm.

The people are getting in their winter wood and having it sawed. Herman Brame last week sawed twenty-six cords in one day with his gasoline engine and made several small "moves."

On Monday C. W. Felix, who kept the toll gate in this place moved to his property on High Street.

Amateurs In Melodrama: Gettysburg's amateur players essayed melodrama on Thursday evening for the benefit of the Fire Company and succeeded not only artistically, but financially as well, clearing $120 for the treasury of the firemen. "Tony, the Convict" was the offering and it pleased an audience which almost filled the house. Calvin Hartman as "Tony" the hero and Calvin Gilbert as the deep-dyed, hard-hearted, murderous villain fully sustained their reputations as amateurs of no mean ability. Miss Marian Blocher was the heroine sought by Edgar Miller who passed as a social leader. She had a heavier part than has been assigned to her in any previous local talent play and she carried it off with success. Richard Mishler as the judge and foster father of Lena, the heroine, was very good in his part and Miss Mary Ramer as maid was most acceptable. Miss Lily Dougherty added to her reputation as an amateur actress and other parts were well taken by Mrs. L. A. Deininger, Earl Stallsmith, Luther McDonnell and Alvin McSherry.

Today's Talk

POISE

Poise is a large phase of success already worked out. For there can be little of success without poise. Poise is keeping your head when everybody else loses theirs.

Poise is power — square jawed and firm set.

When blame all seems to come your way; when the fingers of fault-finders all seem centered in front of your face; when failure after failure files into your door; when former friends form into foes; when clouds creep onward, black and threatening — then's the time for poise!

Then's the time to face the crowd and cut the air with your command of confidence and — poise.

The cool heads are the battle winners.

And you who are ruling and conserving through the art of poise, you are preserving peace by being prepared for war.

The strong man or woman always listens — and thinks. In such an attitude he or she can consider and weigh with justice and rare freedom the most puzzling problems. Poise to such a man or woman is like a bank full of funds.

Poise put into your character will balance and proportion it — make it fit and formidable.

How many times you have seen the man of action at his desk, calm and collected — with plenty of time for anything important — while about him is confusion and an atmosphere of importance that is, after all, charged with very little importance.

Study out and apply to yourself — poise. Poise starts when you begin to eliminate fear and disorder.

Just Folks

HEART AND MIND

His mind would harness him to facts,
The somber and sedate
And all the big and little acts
Required for growing great.

His mind would each him loss
And gain
By profit's rules precise,
And just what balance must remain

His mind would say: "Be cold
As steel
And deaf to pity stand.
When friendship comes with you
To deal
Insist on cash in hand."

But oh, he found he could not
trim
His life to narrowed rounds,
For off the boisterous heart of him
Would scamper out of bounds.

And off when reason viewed with doubt
Poor promises to pay,
His heart would throw the profits
out

And give the stuff away.
He might have prospered, more inclined
Cold reason to obey,
But forced to choose 'twixt heart
and mind—

He took the happier way.

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Gov. David Lawrence has defended the highway safety program developed under two Democratic state administrations and advised against any sudden move to alter or discard it.

"It is nondiscriminatory, playing no favorites and brooking no fixes," the outgoing governor told a testimonial dinner Monday night for Traffic Safety Commissioner O. D. Shipley.

He added that no matter what promises were made during the recent gubernatorial campaign, the new administration should analyze the safety program carefully before "casting it out irrationally."

LAUDS SHIPLEY

Shipley, named to his post by former Gov. George Leader in 1956, was described by Lawrence as "one of the most devoted and dedicated members of this administration."

The inner address was the second time Monday Lawrence took an apparent swipe at the incoming administration of Republican Gov. William W. Scranton.

Speaking on a television program in Scranton, near the governor elect's home, Lawrence labeled as unnecessary the new position of assistant to the governor.

NO ASSISTANT NEEDED

He said there was sufficient personnel in the governor's office to handle everything that comes up.

Scranton has named William Kiesling to the position, which he created shortly after election. Kiesling, a public relations specialist, was a top Scranton aide during the campaign.

At another speech at the University of Scranton, Lawrence told 650 students he admires political independence but questions the value of ticket splitting.

Track Officials Criticize AAU For Ruling Ineligible A Large Group Of Athletes

DETROIT (AP) — The AAU's action in declaring a large group of athletes ineligible for competing in unsanctioned meets met with resounding criticism today from track officials across the country.

The athletes were found ineligible for future American open and international competition including the Olympics, the AAU announced Monday.

It was the first hard blow struck in the AAU's bitter struggle with the U.S. Track and Field Federation for control of the sport. Until the AAU's move at its annual convention that wound up here Sunday, the battle had been fought mostly with words for 2½ years.

IS 'RIDICULOUS'

Col. Don Hull, the AAU's executive secretary, said the athletes were declared ineligible because they competed in meets that included both collegians and non-collegians. In such open meets, the AAU claims it has sole power of sanction.

"It is completely unreasonable and ridiculous for the AAU to rule ineligible fine young men merely for running in track competition conducted by the nation's high schools and colleges," said Walter Byers, executive director of the NCAA, which supports the Federation.

"The international rules do not require this. This is an internal decision of the AAU as reflected

SNIDE REMARKS PLAGUE SANTA DOING HIS JOB

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Remarks that make a street corner Santa Claus want to turn in his belt:

"Here's a penny for you, and a penny for each of your dear little elves."

"How come you ask me again, Santa Claus, when I just told you what I wanted in the department store only 10 minutes ago?"

"Oh, dear, you are absolutely sure you don't have change for a quarter? I hate to pass you by without donating something."

HAVE A LICENSE?

"I'm from the City License Department. If you don't have a license, I'll have to call the Black Maria and give you a free ride downtown."

"Oh, Grace, go ahead. I dare you to pull his beard off."

"I'm the inspector, McGillicuddy. Let me sniff your breath. If I smell liquor, you'll turn in that uniform this minute."

"Is it true that except during the Christmas season all you Santa Clauses hang out down on the Bowery?"

"Pod'n me, could you direct me to the store that is having a special on fur coats, marked down from $5,000 to $4,499?"

"Sure, I'm sure, it's Uncle Jake. Nobody — not even Santa Claus — ever had a nose as big and red as Uncle Jake's."

"Uncle, Mama said to tell you she didn't care whether or not it's against the rules for you to go shopping in your costume. She says that if you don't stop and pick up a couple of pounds of boiling beef on the way home, you won't get any dinner tonight."

NO REST ROOMS

"I'm sorry we can't let you use our rest room facilities. This is a high-class establishment. Why don't you try the store across the street?"

"Naw, standing out in the cold doesn't bother him. After all, he lives at the north pole, doesn't he?"

"What're you doing going around in a red suit like that? You some kind of a Communist nut, or something?"

"Frankly, in my opinion he's seen a lot more pink elephants in his life than he has reindeer."

"Mama, why are you giving money to Santa Claus? I thought he was supposed to bring presents to us."

"His nose was red when I passed him on the way to work this morning. Now it seems to be turning blue." "I'm the inspector, McGillicuddy. I know your feet hurt, but smile, man—look jolly. Maybe if you'd sing a chorus of 'Jingle Bells' now and then, it might stir up a little more business."

Four former N.C. State players who admitted accepting bribes to shave points, testified for the state. They were Don Gallagher, Stan Muehlbauer, and Anton Muehlbauer, all of New York, and Terry Litchfield, formerly of Louisville, Ky., and now of Birmingham, Ala. None of the players was indicted.

There have been 25 groups resettled near large metropolitan areas, so far, with two groups going to Philadelphia.

Various church-related agencies, the World Church Service of the National Council of Churches and the U. S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare are among the other sponsors of the plan.

Scribbles Will On Dresser Top

MEADVILLE, Pa. (AP) — A will that a dying man scribbled on a dresser top with yellow chalk at a Pymatuning Lake cottage was revealed by authorities Monday.

They said Michael P. Pusateri of Pittsburgh apparently made the will last Thursday just before dying of a heart attack at his cottage near Epswylville.

The will was signed and dated, and left property to relatives, they said.

FIGHT CLAIM OF AMISH PAIR

PITTSBURGH (AP) — A brief was filed by the federal government Monday in its fight against an Amish couple's claim for exemption from paying Social Security taxes.

The attorney for Mr. and Mrs. Valentine Y. Byler of New Wilmington, Lawrence County, has until Dec. 12 to file a brief for the couple.

A hearing is scheduled before Federal Judge Rabe F. Marsh Dec. 17 on a government petition to dismiss the Bylers' suit for tax exemption status. The Bylers also are asking for compensation for three plow horses seized from them in May, 1961.

HORSES TAKEN

The couple claim they should be exempt from paying Social Security taxes because they do not believe in public welfare. They also are against Social Security as an insurance plan.

However, the government contends the Bylers have failed to show legal grounds for their claim.

The plow horses were taken from the Bylers for non-payment of $214.43 in Social Security taxes and sold at public auction.

The government has 76 similar cases pending against the Amish but is delaying action until the Byler case is decided.

ORDERS INJUNCTION

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy directed the Justice Department today to seek an injunction to prevent renewal of a strike by the machinists union against the Lockheed Aircraft Corp.

Kennedy sent a letter to his brother, Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy, telling him to seek an 80-day "cooling off" Taft-Hartley injunction.

Kennedy said the strike against Lockheed, "if permitted to recur or continue, will imperil the national safety."

KNOW OF PERIL

WASHINGTON (AP) — A magazine article by a pilot killed in the airliner crash Friday at New York's Idlewild Airport deplores what he called the narrow safety margin for landings there.

TAX ANALYSTS DEBATE ISSUES OF PROPOSALS

By SAM DAWSON

AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — Business and the administration are drawing up their lines today for another round in the perennial battle over taxes. At conferences here and in Washington the two sides are outlining their views. The debate is as much over the kind of taxes as over the high rates.

The final stands may be made clear when the President addresses a group of businessmen here Dec. 14 and perhaps reveals the forms his proposals to the new Congress will take.

At today's hearing in Washington businessmen are telling the Internal Revenue Service their objections to and perplexities about the new rules it proposes on expense account deductions.

Commissioner Mortimer M. Caplin says the hearing well may lead to a relaxation of some of the proposed crackdown.

DISCUSS REFORM

In New York, businessmen and federal legislators are discussing the wider problem of tax reform at a meeting of the Tax Foundation, a nonprofit research body long dedicated to seeking lower tax burdens and less government spending.

And the complications of the tax rules decreed in the Revenue Act of 1962 will be discussed in Washington next week at a meeting of business executives, their tax attorneys, and federal tax administrators, sponsored by the Federal Bar Association and Foundation and The Bureau of National Affairs Inc.

All hands agree that they'd like to see the nation's economy grow faster and that the burden of high taxation may be holding this back.

The rub comes when tax cuts mean still higher Treasury deficits. This brings up the ticklish question of holding down government spending and how and if this can be done, or even if it should be done.

URGES RELAXATION

A call for "less heavy reliance on taxes which are imposed on business as such" is made today at the Tax Foundation meeting by Prof. C. Lowell Harris of Columbia University. He says Congress should "try to reduce rather than to enhance the deadweight burden of (tax) compliance cost on business, as well as on the public generally." The costs include the fees of tax counsel and the salaries of tax managers, as well as business activities changed or hampered by complying with the tax laws.

But another speaker at the conference, Rep. Thomas B. Curtis, R-Mo., says real federal tax reform can come only from expenditure cuts and the prospects for this in 1963 or in 1964 he calls grim.

WANT OLD RATE

Businessmen generally appear to be plugging for a return to 47 per cent corporate income tax rate. This was raised to 52 per cent during the Korean War emergency and renewed annually since then. The return to 47 per cent would be automatic June 30, if Congress doesn't vote otherwise in the meantime.

Such a drop in the corporate rate would give business about $2.5 billion more to invest in expansion, or in building reserves, or in paying dividends. How much would go directly into economic growth is moot. But business leaders say such a boost to profits after taxes would increase the pace notably.

College Wrestlers Meet American Here Friday As Gardner Makes Debut

Frank "Sprig" Gardner, one of the outstanding high school wrestling coaches in the country for the past 32 years, will make his debut on the collegiate scene Friday when Gettysburg College entertains American University.

Gardner, who served as head wrestling tutor at East Hampton and W. C. Mepham High Schools on Long Island, has a lifetime record of 254 victories and five losses. He is a native of Adams County and a graduate of Gettysburg High School and Franklin and Marshall College.

When Gardner took over at Gettysburg he was faced with two immediate major problems, the lack of depth and only two veterans to form his nucleus.

The Bullets have a 12-man roster with Hayes Kline, Newport, and Vance Johnston, Biglerville, the lone letterman. Despite this bleak outlook, Gettysburg's roster contains eight strong sophomores and only one senior, 147-pounder Jim Pipal, Teaneck, N. J.

Pipal is battling sophomores Bob Hughey, Pittsburgh, and Brian Schechterle, Ashbury Park, N. J., for the starting 147 berth. Kline has a clear field in the 130-pound class, but Johnston must work hard to pass junior Frank Ursommaro, Drexel Hill, in the 157 division. A nip-and-tuck battle is being waged in the 123-pound class between sophomores Phil Yost, Hanover, and Doug Wight, Westfield, N. J. Both wrestlers were outstanding a year ago on the frosh squad.

Chris Ebert, Pittsburgh, 137-pounder; Pete McDowell, Abington, 167; Hank Phillips, Sunbury, 177, and Jim Stouffer, New Cumberland, heavyweight, seem to have their respective divisions well under control.

Gettysburg's last winning season was in 1959 when the Bullets posted a 7-5 record. During the past three years, Gettysburg has won only three matches, tied one and dropped 27. This includes a 1-41 state registered a year ago. A strong and promising freshman wrestling squad will tangle with the American U. yearlings in the 7 p.m. encounter preceding the varsity clash.

Tom Shreiner Given Honorable Mention

Tom Shreiner, Gettysburg College tackle, received an honorable mention in the 1962 Associated Press All-State College football selections announced today.

Shreiner, a 240-pounder from Lancaster, was a standout on the Bullets line during the past season. He will graduate next June.

Mexico Beats India In Davis Cup Play

KADRAS, India (AP)—Mexico advanced to the challenge round of the Davis Cup today for the first time in tennis history by defeating India in the first three matches of the best three of five test.

Rafael Osuna took his singles match from India's Ramanathan Krishnan, postponed from Monday while double-knocked 6-6 in the fourth set, by a final score of 8-6, 2-6, 7-5, 6-0, 6-4. He then teamed with Antonio Palafox to defeat Joydeep Mukerjee and Prinjith Lal in the doubles 10-8, 12-10, 6-4.

Mexico will meet Australia in December for the coveted silver cup.

NEW YORK (AP)—Five Pennsylvania college players including Penn State end Dave Robinson were named to the Eastern College Athletic Conference university division All-East football team.

EAST ELEVEN IS NAMED FOR SHRINE GAME

NEW YORK (AP)—Quarterbacks Daryl Lamonica of Notre Dame and Bill Mrukowski of Ohio State, one a skilled passer and the other a battering runner, are on the Midwest-dominated East squad picked for the 38th annual East-West Shrine football game.

Mrukowski, who proved a rugged rusher for Ohio State's ground-oriented forces, and Lamonica head a strong backfield that also includes Michigan State's George Salinas, Larry Ferguson of Iowa and Paul Flatley of Northwestern.

The end crew is headed by Kentucky's Tom Hutchinson and Boston College's Art Graham, with such other standouts in the line as tackles Bob Vogel of Ohio State and Don Brumm of Purdue, and guard Ed Budde of Michigan State.

NITTANY LIONS PLACE FIVE ON ALL-PA. TEAM

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Five Penn State players have been named to the 1962 Associated Press All-Pennsylvania College Football team which also features selection for the third straight year of Joe Iacone, hard running West Chester State back, it was announced today.

Halfback Roger Kochman led the Penn State delegation, including quarterback Pete Liske, end Dave Robinson, tackle Charley Sieminski and guard Harrison Rosdahl.

Selection by sports editors, broadcasters and telecasters of end Ron Allhouse of Penn, guard Bill McPherson of California State, center John DiShaw of PMC, and halfback Larry Kerstetter of Susquehanna, completed the first team.

SECOND TEAM

The second team in the close balloting is composed of ends Pete Archibald of Indiana and Dick Tyrrell of Bucknell, tackles Charley Johnson of Villanova and Jack Lee of Westminster, guards Joe Blasenstien of Penn State and Joe Hamilton of Geneva, center Bill Hardaker of Penn, and backs Ron Giordano of Bucknell, Larry Glueck of Villanova, Rick Leeson of Pitt and Toby Barkman of East Stroudsburg State.

Penn State's 9-1 record and Gator Bowl invitation resulted to a great extent from the running of Kochman, and passing and team direction of Liske. Kochman gained 552 yards rushing, scored 43 points; Liske gained 1,037 yards, tossed 12 TD aerials and scored four TDs running. Robinson, a bone crushing tackler, fine pass receiver and blocker, and Sieminski and Rosdahl, led States tough forward wall.

Iacone, who has been a one man gang for West Chester the past three years, climaxed his brilliant career gaining 1,270 yards for the season. He led the state in scoring with 98 points and wound up with a career total of 242 points on 40 TDs and a 2 point conversion.

SOME STATISTICS
Kerstetter gained 583 yards on 142 carries and scored 74 points for undefeated, undefeated Susquehanna. He has been the "bread and butter" guy in two straight undefeated seasons for the Crusaders.

Douds was a 60-minute man for Slippery Rock's State College Conference champions; DiShaw, a rugged 200-pound linebacker with the speed of a halfback, made life miserable for opposing ball carriers, while McPherson was a stickout for California in the State Conference.

The all-star first team line averages 215 pounds, is fast and mobile. The backs, all fine runners, average 195. Totally the first team backs gained 2,788 yards this season.

BRADDS HAS HIS SECOND 30-POINTER

By MIKE RATHET

Associated Press Sports Writer
Who's this Gary Bradds? The college basketball season is just four days old, yet Bradds already has slid into Jerry Lucas' big bucks, given Ohio State's new era Buckeyes visions of another triumphant reign and caused the campaign's first effigy hanging.

Lucas' sophomore spear carrier, the 6-foot-8 Bradds came through with his second 30-point plus performance Monday night, carrying the supposedly weakened Buckeyes to an easy 84-59 triumph over highly regarded St. Louis for their 36th consecutive home court victory.

BURN BENINGTON
While Bradds was scoring his 31 points and carrying the Buckeyes—who weren't among the Top Ten in The Associated Press' preseason poll—to their second straight triumph, on the St. Louis campus Billiken's Coach John Benington was getting the hang-the-dummy treatment.

A sign on the dummy said: "Old Man Benington, our wonderful coach."

And some 200 students were chanting: "Benington, Benington, burn him, burn him."

OTHER FIREWORKS
There also were fireworks in other parts of the country as top-ranked Cincinnati continued to steamroller lesser opposition, fourth-rated Loyola of Chicago reached the century-mark for the second consecutive game, Arizona shocked 10th-ranked Wisconsin and Michigan unveiled a sophomore sensation in Bill Buntin.

The Bearcats used Ron Bonham's career high 30 points to whack Virginia 91-42, Loyola blasted North Dakota 110-56, Arizona upset Wisconsin 51-46 on a key three-point play by sophomore Al Johnson and Buntin scored 25 points and grabbed 22 rebounds in Michigan's 81-62 triumph over Creighton and Paul Silas.

Bradds put Ohio State out front to stay, 22-21, on a pair of foul shots as the Buckeyes spurred for 20 points in the last 6 minutes of the first half and overcame a short-lived St. Louis lead. Gary Garrison was high scorer for the Billikens with 22 points.

CINCINNATI SPREE
Bonham, who has taken over with Paul Hogue graduated and heralded sophomore Ron Krick sidelined for the year with a shoulder injury, contributed six points in a 10-point Cincinnati spree that sent the defending NCAA champs off to a commanding 13-4 lead over Virginia.

Colorado's defending Big Eight champions needed two overtimes to subdue Wichita, 79-69, as Jim Davis scored 12 of the Buuffs 16 points in the second extra session. In another double overtime marathon, Florida outlasted Jacksonville, 82-81.

In an Atlantic Coast Conference battle, North Carolina State edged Clemson 55-55 on Pete Aukse's field goal with 24 seconds left. Arkansas nipped Kansas 64-62 in overtime as Tommy Boyer wound up with 21 points. Rick Lopez's two foul shots after time had run out gave Northwestern a 57-55 decision over Pittsburgh.

DETROIT HAS
Purdue overcame Detroit 73-72 after Ron Hughes' basket put the Boilermakers ahead with less than 2 minutes to go. Jim Caldwell dropped in a field goal with less than a minute to play in overtime for Georgia Tech's 80-79 victory over Furman and Miami of Ohio squeezed by Eastern Kentucky 63-64.

Elsewhere, Drake defeated Indiana 87-76, Minnesota knocked off Kansas State 73-62, Oklahoma City took TCU 77-60, Marquette bombed Wake Forest 87-72, Houston beat Nebraska 68-61, Stanford walloped Utah 81-50, Arizona State belted Fresno State 89-61, Penn State clobbered Lehigh 77-49. Providence overwhelmed Mt. St. Mary's 72-57 and Memphis State outclassed New Mexico State 101-77.

SOUTHERN CAL VOTED GRID CROWN FOR '62

By BOB HOOBING

Associated Press Sports Writer
Unbeaten, untied Southern California was voted the 1962 national collegiate football championship in the final Associated Press poll today, the first West Coast team to be so honored since 1939.

The Trojans, who completed their perfect season by defeating Notre Dame 25-0 Saturday, polled 509 points to 842 for runner-up Wisconsin and drew 42 of a possible 52 first-place votes.

The balloting was done by sportswriters and broadcasters who are members of the AP poll board. Points are determined on a basis of 10 for first, 9 for second down to 1 for a 10th-place selection.

MISSISSIPPI THIRD
The rankings remained unchanged from a week ago with Mississippi's first all-winning team in history finishing third, unbeaten but once-tied Texas fourth, 1961 champion Alabama fifth, followed by Arkansas, Louisiana State, Oklahoma, Penn State and Minnesota in that order.

Southern Cal was the last West Coast team to capture a national title 23 years ago. In fact the men of Troy now own four of the five crowns worn on the Pacific slopes. The powerhouses of coach Howard Jones also were rated supreme in 1928 and 1931. Stanford got the nod a 1926.

ROSE BOWL SET
The poll results sets up a Rose Bowl meeting between the No. 1 and 2 ranked teams. Southern Cal's Pasadena opponents, the Big Ten kings from Wisconsin, have hit the Top Ten for the third time in five seasons.

Alabama, Mississippi and Arkansas—the latter two matched in the Sugar Bowl—have reached the select circle for the third straight year each.

Oklahoma, which will oppose Bama in the Orange Bowl classic, returns to the Top Ten after a three year absence. The Sooners made the grade 11 straight seasons in the period 1948 through 1958.

NEW YORK (AP)—Associate Supreme Court Justice Byron (Whizzer) White, former college football star at Colorado, heads the 1962 Sports Illustrated Silver Anniversary All-American roster announced today.

Also selected were Yale's Clint Frank, Pittsburgh's John Michelosen and Western Reserve's Frank Leon Keiker, the first Negro ever named for the award.

The 25-member squad was picked from among former college players who played their last football games in 1957. The major requirement for selection is a nominee's record of success in his chosen field in life.

Gettysburg College, loser in its basketball opener to Temple Saturday evening 41-36, makes its home debut tonight when it entertains Albright in a doubleheader, the frosh-jayvee game starting at 6:45.

Albright, winner of the Middle Atlantic Conference northern college division title last season, comes here with a veteran and experienced squad which is expected to produce one of the strongest Lion teams in history. There are eight seniors on the Albright squad headed by Captain Ray Sommerstad and high-scoring Tommy Pearl, all who have tallied 1,691 points in his first three seasons and is certain to set an all-time Lion scoring record this year.

The Bullets varsity, above, includes the following:

Friars' Late Spurt Defeats Mount 72-57; Baltimore At Emmitsburg Wednesday

Mt. St. Mary's collapsed in the final four minutes of play and dropped its second basketball decision in as many starts Monday evening to Providence 72-57 on the Friars' court before approximately 3,300 fans.

Providence, with a veteran team and again rated as one of the powers of the east, was given a terrific battle by the Mountaineers until the final minutes.

The Friars led by a scant 57-53 margin with four minutes remaining and then broke lose on the scoring of Jim Stone and Vinnie Ernst to wrap up the decision as Jim Phelan's outfit managed but two points in the waning minutes.

The first half was a nip and tuck affair with Providence holding a 27-26 edge at half time.

VICTORS SHOOT WELL
A pair of Juniors, Jim Stone and 6-10 John Thompson, paced Providence with 25 and 20 points, respectively. Providence displayed a sharp-shooting attack by landing 51 per cent of its shots from the floor.

John O'Reilly was the big for the Mount with 17 points. Eddie Pfeiffer chipped in with 13 while Dave Maloney and John Carrell each had 10. Carrell, a Freshman, appeared to have recovered from his first game jitters and should prove a big asset to the Mountaineers. Completing the scoring for the Mount were Ed Folk with five tallies and Bill Neuss with two.

The Mount, defending 1961-62 NCAA small cage champs, will open defense of their Mason-Dixon Conference title Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock when they clash with Baltimore University at Emmitsburg.

Two more conference games

NEW YORK (AP)—The National Football league labored into the wee small hours today to complete its marathon draft of 280 collegians. Before the last draw was made, two of the first round picks already had been signed.

Detroit and Baltimore grabbed a pair of Ohio State tackles and signed them on the spot. The Lions picked Daryl Sanders, a 6-foot-5, 237-pounder from Mayfield Heights, Ohio, and the Colts came up with Bob Vogel, another 6-5 giant from Massillon, Ohio.

Terry Baker, the cover boy quarterback from Oregon State and Heisman Award winner, was the No. 1 pick. The left-handed passer went to the Los Angeles Rams, last in the Western Conference, who have three quarterbacks—rookies Roman Gabriel and Ron Miller, and veteran Zeke Bratkowski.

MANY DUPLICATES
Four first-round picks of the rival American Football League, made Saturday in Dallas, also were drafted in the first round by the NFL. They were halfbacks Jerry Stovall of Louisiana State, picked by St. Louis and the New York Titans; and Kermit Alexander of UCLA, San Francisco and Buffalo; and tackle Ed Budde of Michigan State, Philadelphia and the Dallas Texans.

Baker was the 12th-round selection of San Diego in the AFL, which apparently felt he would play in the NFL or Canada.

There were many duplicate choices by the two leagues which now must battle for contract signatures along with the Canadian League.

Fans who may be puzzled by the absence of some of the big names must remember that several prominent players were picked as "futures" last year. The draft is restricted to seniors and men whose original college class will graduate in June. Those picked as futures still have a year of eligibility left although their original class graduates.

The pros concentrated on tackles in the early rounds until they had cleaned out most of the big boys. Twelve of the first 28 were tackles. Among them were Mississippi's Ed Dunaway and Minnesota's Bobby Bell—both by Minnesota's Vikings; Purdue's Don Brumm (St. Louis); Washington's Ray Mansfield (Philadelphia); Oregon's Steve Barnett (Chicago); and Miami of Ohio's Tom Nomina (Los Angeles).

PLAYERS ARE EAGER
Ray Graves, Gator head coach and athletic director, said his players are eager to meet the best in the East.

"We feel we have a fine football team," he said, "and we are glad of the opportunity to prove to everyone that Florida is still one of the best football teams in the South."

Penn State, with a 9-1 record, will be making its second appearance in the Gator Bowl. Last year the Nittany Lions upset Georgia Tech 30-15.

Florida, after losing to Georgia Tech and Duke, made a strong comeback winning five of the next six games. Its 17-15 loss to Miami however, seemed to have ended bowl hopes.

Florida played in the Gator Bowl in 1960, edging Baylor 13-12.

BASEBALL'S PENSION PLAN IS ATTACKED

By JIM BECKER

Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—Some of baseball's former stars have sued the present crop over the bulging pot in baseball's prosperous pension plan.

The suit was filed Monday in federal court. It asks the court to wipe out a new pension scheme that gives increased benefits to current players but leaves out the oldtimers. The increases went into effect this year.

The suit was filed in the names of Frank Crosetti, former New York Yankee shortstop and now a coach, and John C. Schutte, a one-time journeyman catcher.

"IT'S THE PRINCIPLE"
Backing up Crosetti and Schutte were such stars as Joe DiMaggio, Bill Dickey, Buckey Walters, Mel Harder, Mike Tresh, Ernie Lombardi, Mace Brown, Doc Cramer, Billy Herman, Mike Higgins, Joe Kuhel, Spud Chandler, Thornton Lee and Hank Greenberg.

"Very few of these men need the money, of course," said lawyer J. Norman Lewis, who filed the suit. "But it is the principle of the thing."

The baseball players' pension committee has 20 days to answer the suit. Then it will probably go to court, perhaps by next June.

Lewis, former attorney of the players' association, was one of the architects of the original baseball pension plan, and sat in on the meetings that drew up the plan that went into effect in 1956.

Under the 1956 plan, monthly payments range from a minimum of $88 for a player who served five years in the majors and starts taking his pension at the age of 50, to $550 for a player who has 20 years in the majors and begins collecting at age 65.

Under amendments to the plan which went into effect this year, the figures are raised to $125.50 and $723.25, but players who either left the majors before 1951, or began collecting payments before this spring are excluded from the higher payoffs.

The suit asks that the amendment be canceled and that four representatives of inactive players be added to the present four-man pension committee of two active players and two owner representatives.

FIFTY YEARS AGO

Local Items: Dougherty and Hartley have had brick pavement laid at their hitching posts in the Square. The bricks were laid in concrete mortar.

The large derrick at the federal building will come down this week. A heating plant will make work possible on the interior during the winter months. Considerable ground has been hauled to Broadway for preliminary work in the building of the parkway in the center of the street. The full plans for the work have not yet been adopted.

Will Build: A meeting of the congregation of College Lutheran Church was held on Monday evening and it was decided to erect a new parsonage on Springs Avenue on the lot adjoining that of Dr. J. Ellis Musselman. The house is to cost about $5,000 and will be built much like Dr. Musselman's residence with an additional three feet each way. The former parsonage was on Chambersburg Street and was recently bought by Charles Plank for $4,000. College Church is as yet without a pastor.

A Job Lot Of Collars: Some patent leather. All sizes, fit any horse. At your own price. C. C. Bream, Gettysburg, Pa.

Cashtown: Twelve of our young men known as the "Scout Sharp Shooters" brought in a large buck on Monday. The animal had about thirteen bullet wounds and there arose the question of who should claim the head and hide. The meat was divided but as yet the other matter is in dispute. The same organization produced the most remarkable hunting story of the season during the week. One morning about nine o'clock a deer was shot in one of its hind legs but not seen again until late in the afternoon. Then several shots were fired and the buck killed. Members of the party say that the fatal bullet first passed through a six-inch chestnut tree, then struck the animal's heart and finally lodged under its breast.

G. M. Bucher is putting up a wind pump from where he will force the water to a high point on his farm into a large reservoir and from there to the house and barn. He has a good spring which will give him a fine supply of water. He is also making other improvements on his farm.

The people are getting in their winter wood and having it sawed. Herman Brame last week sawed twenty-six cords in one day with his gasoline engine and made several small "moves."

On Monday C. W. Felix, who kept the toll gate in this place, moved to his property on High Street.

Amateurs In Melodrama: Gettysburg's amateur players essayed melodrama on Thursday evening for the benefit of the Fire Company and succeeded not only artistically, but financially as well, clearing $120 for the treasury of the firemen "Tony, the Convict" was the offering and it pleased an audience which almost filled the house. Calvin Hartman as "Tony" the hero and Calvin Gilbert as the deep-dyed, hard-hearted, murderous villain fully sustained their reputations as amateurs of no mean ability. Miss Marian Biocher was the heroine sought by Edgar Miller who passed as a social leader. She had a heavier part than has been assigned to her in any previous local talent play and she carried it off with success. Richard Mishler as the judge and Foster father of Lena, the heroine, was very good in his part and Miss Mary Ramer as maid was most acceptable. Miss Lily Dougherty added to her reputation as an amateur actress and other parts were well taken by Mrs. L. A. Denninger, Earl Stallsmith, Luther McDonnell and Alvin McSherry.

POISE

Poise is a large phase of success already worked out. For there can be little of success without poise. Poise is keeping your head when everybody else loses theirs.

Poise is power — square jawed and firm set.

When blame all seems to come your way; when the fingers of fault-finders all seem centered in front of your face; when failure after failure files into your door, when former friends form into foes; when clouds creep onward, black and threatening — then's the time for poise!

Then's the time to face the crowd and cut the air with your command of confidence and — poise.

The cool heads are the battle winners.

And you who are ruling and conserving through the art of poise, you are preserving peace by being prepared for war.

The strong man or woman always listens and thinks. In such an attitude he or she can consider and weigh with justice and rare freedom the most puzzling problems. Poise to such a man or woman is like a bank full of funds.

Poise put into your character will balance and proportion it — make it fit and formidable.

How many times you have seen the man of action at his desk, calm and collected — with plenty of time for anything important — while about him is confusion and an atmosphere of importance that is, after all, charged with very little importance.

Study out and apply to yourself — poise. Poise starts when you begin to eliminate fear and disorder.

Just Folks

HEART AND MIND

His mind would harness him to facts,
The somber and sedate
And all the big and little acts
Required for growing great.

His mind would each him loss
And gain
By profit's rules precise,
And just what balance must remain

'Twixt cost and selling price.

His mind would say: "Be cold
As steel
And deaf to pity stand.
When friendship comes with you
To deal
Insist on cash in hand."

But oh, he found he could not
trim
His life to narrowed rounds,
For off the boisterous heart of him
Would scamper out of bounds.

And oft when reason viewed with doubt
Poor promises to pay,
His heart would throw the profits
out
And give the stuff away.

He might have prospered, more
inclined
Cold reason to obey,
But forced to choose 'twixt heart
and mind—
He took the happier way.

PA. HIGHWAY SAFETY SETUP IS DEFENDED

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Gov. David Lawrence has defended the highway safety program developed under two Democratic state administrations and advised against any sudden move to alter or discard it.

"It is nondiscriminatory, playing no favorites and brooking no fixes," the outgoing governor told a testimonial dinner Monday night for Traffic Safety Commissioner O. D. Shipley.

He added that no matter what promises were made during the recent gubernatorial campaign, the new administration should analyze the safety program carefully before "casting it out irrationally."

LAUDS SHIPLEY

Shipley, named to his post by former Gov. George Leader in 1956, was described by Lawrence as "one of the most devoted and dedicated members of this administration."

The inner address was the second time Monday Lawrence took an apparent swipe at the incoming administration of Republican Gov. William W. Scranton.

Speaking on a television program in Scranton, near the governor elect's home, Lawrence labeled as unnecessary the new position of assistant to the governor.

NO ASSISTANT NEEDED

He said there was sufficient personnel in the governor's office to handle everything that comes up.

Scranton has named William Kiesling to the position, which he created shortly after election. Kiesling, a public relations specialist, was a top Scranton aide during the campaign.

At another speech at the University of Scranton, Lawrence told 650 students he admires political independence but questions the value of ticket splitting.

Track Officials Criticize AAU For Ruling Ineligible A Large Group Of Athletes

DETROIT (AP) — The AAU's action in declaring a large group of athletes ineligible for competing in unsanctioned meets met with resounding criticism today from track officials across the country.

The athletes were found ineligible for future American open and international competition including the Olympics, the AAU announced Monday.

It was the first hard blow struck in the AAU's bitter struggle with the U.S. Track and Field Federation for control of the sport. Until the AAU's move at its annual convention that would up here Sunday, the battle had been fought mostly with words for 2 1/2 years.

Col. Don Hull, the AAU's executive secretary, said the athletes were declared ineligible because they competed in meets that included both collegians and non-collegians. In such open meets, the AAU claims it has sole power of sanction.

"It is completely unreasonable and ridiculous for the AAU to rule ineligible fine young men merely for running in track competition conducted by the nation's high schools and colleges," said Walter Byers, executive director of the NCAA, which supports the Federation.

"The international rules do not require this. This is an internal decision of the AAU as reflected by its belated action and its accompanying offer of reinstatement through the district AAU committees."

MAY APPEAL

The AAU held out an offer that all affected athletes may appeal to their AAU district associations. Three meets were involved—at Knoxville, Tenn., Oct. 28; at Houston early last month, and at Columbus, Ohio, Nov. 22.

"They can't do this to good American college kids," said Larry Snyder, Ohio State track coach and host at the Columbus meet. "This (AAU) is a group that has grasped power and is trying to hold onto it by this action. They will go to any means, even to destroying American track and field to retain this power."

Snyder coached the U.S. track team in the 1960 Olympics. The long verbal slugfest between the AAU and Federation—a group consisting mainly of track coaches—has jeopardized U.S. chances in the 1964 Olympic Games at Tokyo.

A coalition involving the AAU, Federation and other track groups was proposed last month at a New York meeting called by Atty. Gen. Robert Kennedy. The AAU, at its convention, endorsed a coalition plan, but Federation officials immediately charged it was not the same as the one agreed on in New York.

'62 Highway Deaths May Hit New Peak

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The nation's highway fatalities will reach an all-time high this year if the current rate is maintained, says the president of the National Safety Council.

Howard Pyle said Monday 33,430 persons died in highway accidents during the first 10 months of the year. At this rate, he said, the total could approach 41,000—surpassing the 1941 record of 39,969 deaths.

Pyle said the failure of accident prevention measures to keep up with the increasing number of automobiles was a major cause of the high rate.

Pyle, who made the remarks at Pittsburgh's annual safety conference, said the trend in the past few years had been toward fewer highway deaths.

Cuban Refugees Being Resettled

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The first group of Cuban refugees to resettle in Allegheny County will arrive here Thursday from Miami.

Seventy-six persons, including 15 families, are scheduled to be resettled in the area under the plan co-sponsored by the Council of Churches of the Greater Pittsburgh Area.

There have been 25 groups resettled near large metropolitan areas, so far, with two groups going to Philadelphia.

Various church-related agencies, the World Council of Churches and the U. S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare are among the other sponsors of the plan.

Scribbles Will On Dresser Top

MEADVILLE, Pa. (AP)—A will that a dying man scribbled on a dresser top with yellow chalk at a Pymatung Lake cottage was revealed by authorities Monday.

They said Michael P. Pusateri of Pittsburgh apparently made the will last Thursday just before dying of a heart attack at his cottage near Espsyville.

The will was signed and dated, and left property to relatives, they said.

FIGHT CLAIM OF AMISH PAIR

PITTSBURGH (AP) — A brief was filed by the federal government Monday in its fight against an Amish couple's claim for exemption from paying Social Security taxes.

The attorney for Mr. and Mrs. Valentine Y. Byler of New Wilmington, Lawrence County, has until Dec. 12 to file a brief for the couple.

A hearing is scheduled before Federal Judge Rabe F. Marsh Dec. 17 on a government petition to dismiss the Bylers' suit for tax exemption status. The Bylers also are asking for compensation for three plow horses seized from them in May, 1961.

HORSES TAKEN

The couple claim they should be exempt from paying Social Security taxes because they do not believe in public welfare. They also are against Social Security as an insurance plan.

However, the government contends the Bylers have failed to show legal grounds for their claim.

The plow horses were taken from the Bylers for non-payment of $214.43 in Social Security taxes and sold at public auction.

The government has 76 similar cases pending against the Amish but is delaying action until the Byler case is decided.

ORDERS INJUNCTION

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy directed the Justice Department today to seek an injunction to prevent renewal of a strike by the machinists union against the Lockheed Aircraft Corp.

Kennedy sent a letter to his brother, Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy, telling him to seek an 80-day "cooling off" Taft-Hartley injunction.

Kennedy said the strike against Lockheed, "if permitted to recur or continue, will imperil the national safety."

KNEW OF PERIL

WASHINGTON (AP) — A magazine article by a pilot killed in the airliner crash Friday at New York's Idlewild Airport deplores what he called the narrow safety margin for landings there.

Eastern Air Lines Capt. Edward J. Bechtold, referred particularly to Runway 4, the runway which he missed when he crashed in a fog.

To blanch pistachio nuts, cover them with cold water and boil them for about five minutes. Drain off the boiling water and cover the nuts with very cold water, then drain again and you'll probably be able to rub off the skins.

NO REST ROOMS

"I'm sorry we can't let you use our rest room facilities. This is a high-class establishment. Why don't you try the store across the street?"

"Naw, standing out in the cold doesn't bother him. After all, he lives at the north pole, doesn't he?"

"What're you doing going around in a red suit like that? You some kind of a Communist nut, or something?"

"Frankly, in my opinion he's seen a lot more pink elephants in his life than he has reindeer."

"Mama, why are you giving money to Santa Claus? I thought he was supposed to bring presents to us."

"His nose was red when I passed him on the way to work this morning. Now it seems to be turning blue."

"I'm the inspector, McGillicuddy. I know your feet hurt, but smile, man—look jolly. Maybe if you'd sing a chorus of 'Jingle Bells' now and then, it might stir up a little more business."

TAX ANALYSTS DEBATE ISSUES OF PROPOSALS

By SAM DAWSON

AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP) — Business and the administration are drawing up their lines today for another round in the perennial battle over taxes. At conferences here and in Washington the two sides are outlining their views. The debate is as much over the kind of taxes as over the high rates.

The final stands may be made clear when the President addresses a group of businessmen here Dec. 14 and perhaps reveals the forms his proposals to the new Congress will take.

At today's hearing in Washington businessmen are telling the Internal Revenue Service their objections to and perplexities about the new rules it proposes on expense account deductions. Commissioner Mortimer M. Caplin says the hearing will lead to a relaxation of some of the proposed crackdown.

DISCUSS REFORM

In New York, businessmen and federal legislators are discussing the wider problem of tax reform at a meeting of the Tax Foundation, a nonprofit research body long dedicated to seeking lower tax burdens and less government spending.

And the complications of the tax rules decreed in the Revenue Act of 1962 will be discussed in Washington next week at a meeting of business executives, their tax attorneys, and federal tax administrators, sponsored by the Federal Bar Association and Foundation and the Bureau of National Affairs Inc.

All hands agree that they'd like to see the nation's economy grow faster and that the burden of high taxation may be holding this back. The rub comes when tax cuts mean still higher Treasury deficits. This brings up the ticklish question of holding down government spending and how and if this can be done, or even if it should be done.

URGES RELAXATION

A call for "less heavy reliance on taxes which are imposed on business as such" is made today at the Tax Foundation meeting by Prof. C. Lowell Harris of Columbia University. He says Congress should "try to reduce rather than to enhance the deadweight burden of (tax) compliance cost on business, as well as on the public generally." The costs include the fees of tax counsel and the salaries of tax managers, as well as business activities changed or hampered by complying with the tax laws.

But another speaker at the conference, Rep. Thomas B. Curtis, R-Mo., says real federal tax reform can come only from expenditure cuts and the prospects for this in 1963 or in 1964 he calls grim.

WANT OLD RATE

Businessmen generally appear to be plugging for a return to a 47 per cent corporate income tax rate. This was raised to 52 per cent during the Korean War emergency and renewed annually since then. The return to 47 per cent would be automatic June 30, if Congress doesn't vote otherwise in the meantime.

Such a drop in the corporate rate would give business about $2.5 billion more to invest in expansion, or in building reserves, or in paying dividends. How much would go directly into economic growth is moot. But business leaders say such a boost to profits after taxes would increase the pace notably.

TOWN COUNCIL

Under an agreement standing for ten years, he said, the railway has bought stone and council has from time to time graded the road. He also said the road is a "public road" because it has been open for 50 years. Councilman Jones held that "you cannot permit a public nuisance," and the matter was turned over to the highway committee and borough solicitor.

TO DELAY STREET

Borough Engineer LeRoy H. Winebrenner reported that the state highways department has changed its views concerning state aid for street construction. Previously, he said, council could order a street, construct it and get state aid to pay for it all within a given year. Now, he said, state officials have notified the borough that the town can receive state aid during a given year, only on work which it has listed with the state by January 1. He said, as an example, extension of Fairview Ave. beyond King St. will have to wait until 1964 because it is not ready for ordination and thus cannot be listed with the state for 1963 work.

Winebrenner reported the ten-year-old borough roller is in need of repair. Council asked him to secure estimates of the cost of repair and of how much a new roller would cost if the present one is traded in.

MONEY AND MOSQUITOES

Council vote to invest $50,000 in certificates of deposit in a local bank. The amount had previously been invested in U.S. Treasury bonds. Finance Chairman John Welshonce said he had discussed with a local banker the best way to invest the money and it was suggested that it be divided into four amounts of $12,500 each and invested in a three-month certificate, another for six months, another for nine months and another for a year. The 12-month certificates will pay four per cent interest, the six and nine-month three per cent and the three-month two and one half per cent. As the three, six and nine-month certificates are paid the sum, or portion thereof, should be reinvested in 12-month certificates so that council would be eventually obtaining four per cent on all of the money, but at the same time have money coming in each three months if it is needed at that time. Council's vote agreed to follow that plan, which would provide the liquidity of the treasury notes plus more interest, according to Welshonce report.

KUHN'S FIRST REPORT

Building Official Charles E. Kuhn submitted his first report showing six permits issued, three for demolition, two for repair and one for new construction. The total of the permit fees was $6.37. So far seven inspections have been made, Mr. Kuhn's report showed, and one violation that was noted was corrected. His report added that "after one month of service it is apparent that some minimum cost should be placed on building permits . . . as little as 10 cents. . . . It is the opinion of the undersigned that a suggested minimum of $2.50 to $5 be placed on permits to compensate for time to issue, record,

COACHES ASSIGNED

He reported that Mrs. Lizzie Gary Davis, head of the English department, served on a Middle States evaluating team that surveyed the Boonsboro, Md. schools the last three days of last month.

The last football season involved total expenditures $2,600 above receipts, the supervising principal told the board. Later in the meeting these coaching assignments were made: Glenn Gruver, head basketball coach; Robert Reeder, assistant varsity basketball coach; Donald Morrison and Gary Crum, junior high basketball coaches; Wilma Schirer, girls' basketball; John Smarsh, head track coach with David Gifford as assistant; Glenn Kemper, head baseball coach with Robert Boltz and Donald Morrison as assistants.

LANDSCAPE GROUNDS

It was reported that with the planting of about 60 pin and red oaks recently on the high school grounds, landscape planting, there are about two-thirds complete. Many of the trees were donated by the community.

Attorney Donald M. Swope as the board's solicitor reported on a conference with Buchart Associates and the authority board on the seeding of the athletic field and it was agreed by the board that a committee of directors meet with the architects and solicitors to discuss a plan of action. The meeting will be held on the field next Monday afternoon.

las, universally known as Santa Claus and the patron saint of children, seamen and travelers. The chorus and the soloist describe his miraculous adventures with the vivid conviction of eyewitnesses, transforming themselves into the contrasting characters of the drama as it unfolds and drawing the separate threads of the story together with each climax of their prayer and praise.

In the final offering the congregation will join the choristers in "O, Come All Ye Faithful." The "Tantum Ergo" and Bach's "Final Chorus From the Passion According to St. John" will complete the program.

Rev. Francis X. Callahan will serve as lector for the occasion and the orchestra will be under the direction of Joseph Chalker, assistant music supervisor for Carroll County (Md.) schools.

MANY STARS TO PLAY HERSHEY

HERSHEY — The Harlem Globetrotters, world renowned jesters of the basketball court, will bring with them a host of all-star performers when they meet the Atlantic City Sea Gulls in a doubleheader cage attraction at Hershey Sports Arena Friday night, December 14.

Heading the list of celebrities will be the famous singer, Cab Calloway, who will enliven the between-halves entertainment. The celebrated "Hi-De-Ho" man, virtually the newest member of the Globetrotters troupe, almost became one of the first of Abe Saperstein's crew. That was 38 years ago when Cab played against Saperstein's original team, the Savoy Big Five. Cab declined Abe's invitation to join the team then in favor of a career in the entertainment field. Constantly on the lookout for new talent for his traveling show, Saperstein three years ago invited Calloway to join the troupe. Since then Cab has become an integral part of the half-time revue.

In addition to Calloway, Saperstein will present the Farias Trio, Cuban refugees from their Castro-held homeland, whose superb hand-balancing and acrobatic feats are show-stoppers; Richard Bergmann, 11 times table tennis champion of the world who, in Chou Lin Chen, Chinese champion, meets his toughest foe of any Trotter tour; Mike Lemay, Canada's sensational young acrobat; Boy Foy, celebrated unicyclist; the Parry Kids, Steve and Squeaky, talented young trampoline stars; and Guy Allen, world famous baton twirler.

Saperstein also announced that festivities will begin at 7:30 p.m. with an official American Basketball League game between the Chicago Majors and the Pittsburgh Pipers. The Trotters face the Sea Gulls in the nightcap which will also produce some typical Trotter tantrums.

Attorney Donald M. Swope as the board's solicitor reported on a conference with Buchart Associates and the authority board on the seeding of the athletic field and it was agreed by the board that a committee of directors meet with the architects and solicitors to discuss a plan of action. The meeting will be held on the field next Monday afternoon.

The chorus and the soloist describe his miraculous adventures with the vivid conviction of eyewitnesses, transforming themselves into the contrasting characters of the drama as it unfolds and drawing the separate threads of the story together with each climax of their prayer and praise.

In the final offering the congregation will join the choristers in "O, Come All Ye Faithful." The "Tantum Ergo" and Bach's "Final Chorus From the Passion According to St. John" will complete the program.

DR. BOWMAN, VET EDUCATOR, DIES SUNDAY

BEDFORD, Pa. (AP)—Dr. John Gabbert Bowman, veteran educator, whose vision and drive have an enduring monument in the sky-scraper-university he raised in Pittsburgh, died here Sunday at the age of 85.

Bowman was chancellor of the University of Pittsburgh from 1921 to 1945, a period of growth and controversy. In 1945 he was elected to the newly-created post of president of the university, and two years later retired as president-honorary.

He was ill for some time and in April was rushed to Bedford County memorial hospital in critical condition. The nature of his illness was not disclosed. He showed some improvement, but never fully recovered and died at his home in this southwestern Pennsylvania town.

SERVICES THURSDAY

Funeral services and burial will be in Pittsburgh on Wednesday. The University of Pittsburgh was already 90 years old when John G. Bowman was born in 1877 in Davenport, Iowa.

His early career revolved around the University of Iowa, where he received his bachelor of arts and master's degrees. After working as a newspaper reporter in Iowa and Chicago, he returned to teach English at Iowa University, then left for another teaching job, at Columbia University in New York.

PREXY AT 34

In 1911—he was then 34 years old—he became president of the University of Iowa.

In the meantime he had married Florence Ridgway Berry in 1908. She was killed several years ago by a streetcar in Pittsburgh.

Bowman was named the first director of the American College of Surgeons in 1915 and held that post for five years.

In 1921 he became chancellor of Pitt. Bowman was fond of telling how he arrived in Pittsburgh by train for his first visit to the Pitt campus and boarded a streetcar for the city's Oakland section.

42-STORY STRUCTURE

"Would you tell me when we reach the University of Pittsburgh?" he asked the conductor.

"I don't know where it is myself," the conductor answered.

Bowman soon decided to put Pitt on the map. The university was ripe for expansion and many plans were proposed, most of them along classical or traditional architectural lines.

The young chancellor backed a design for the main building which immediately aroused ex-

Oil Importers Are Assailed

WASHINGTON (AP) — The president of the National Coal Policy Conference says residual fuel oil importers are using what he terms trumped up or contrived claims of pending shortages in efforts to get import quota increases.

In a statement Sunday, Joseph E. Moody said supplies of residual in the East actually are higher than in 1961 while consumption has shown a decrease. He said the real object of the importers is to increase imports in order to increase conversions to oil use and to keep oil prices down.

LEGAL SHIFT

DRAWS FIRE

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Criticism mounted today of the city gas commission's decision to name former Mayor Richardson Dilworth's law firm as legal counsel for the Philadelphia Gas Works.

The work, worth an estimated $100,000 annually, was taken from the law firm of Morgan, Lewis and Bockius, which also acts as counsel for United Gas Improvement Co., which operates the gas works for the city.

Morgan, Lewis and Bockius had held the gas works law contract for 65 years. Recently city solicitor David Berger said holding of contracts for both the gas works and the gas improvement company might be a conflict of interests.

Charles G. Simpson, general manager of the gas works, said in a letter to Berger he disputes, "a suddenly discovered and non-existent conflict of interest" in the old law firm.

Saturday Wilbur Hamilton, Republican city chairman, denounced the hiring of Dilworth's firm. He urged an investigation.

CHURCH-STATE RELATIONS UP

VATICAN CITY (AP)—The Roman Catholic Church was urged in Ecumenical Council debate Monday to take into account realities of the present in forming church-state policy.

A spokesman said the question of church-state relations came up as the 2,200 council fathers debated a draft thesis called "De Ecclesia" (Of the Church.) The thesis deals with many aspects of the church, including its relations citement and some strong opposition—a 42-story structure soaring 535 feet skyward, the world's tallest educational building.

SPRINT FOR HANDSHAKE LEADS TO JAIL

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The man of the hour was Middle quarterback Roger Staubach who led Navy to a 34-14 pasting of Army but the day's best run was by a guy who sprinted out of the stands to shake President Kennedy's hand.

Kennedy arrived by helicopter from Washington for the 63rd annual classic Saturday, and the middies and the cadets cheered him. The middies cheered louder. Kennedy cheered them back, and—although officially neutral—observers said he cheered louder for Navy.

KENNEDY THERE

Staubach, a sophomore, dazzled the fans and the Army, scoring two touchdowns himself, passing for two more, and adding up 204 yards on 10 passes complete of 12 attempts.

Maj. Gen. Chester V. Clifton, the President's military aide, said Kennedy commented on Staubach, "there ought to be 20 like him out there."

Kennedy came down from his special box on the 50-yard line to flip the coin for the team captains before the game.

That was when Vincent Pelzer, 45, of Wyckoff, N.J., dashed out of the stands, bulled through a line of cadets, and got to within two yards of the President before a secret service agent grabbed him and hustled him off the field. "I just wanted to shake his hand," cried Pelzer as he was dragged off the field.

"I did it on a dare," he said Sunday when taken before Magistrate Luke McBride. McBride fined him $10 and $2.50 costs on charges of intoxication, disorderly conduct and breach of the peace.

"One of my friends said to me, 'I guess you can't shake the President's hand,'" Pelzer said. "With that I was on my way. They know I can't ignore a dare." Pelzer spent Saturday night in jail.

with states. Reporting on the debate in St. Peter's, the spokesman said:

"It was said that the doctrine on relations between the Church and state must be formulated in such a way as to take into account the realities of today, avoiding any expression which might conflict with the state. The Church must be ready to face persecutions, but must not provoke them."

The spokesman did not elaborate and did not say how many of the council fathers advanced this view.

Under an agreement standing for ten years, he said, the railway has bought stone and council has from time to time graded the road. He also said the road is a "public road" because it has been open for 50 years. Councilman Jones held that "you cannot permit a public nuisance," and the matter was turned over to the highway committee and borough solicitor.

TO DELAY STREET

Borough Engineer LeRoy H. Winebrenner reported that the state highways department has changed its views concerning state aid for street construction. Previously, he said, council could obtain a street, construct it and get state aid to pay for it all within a given year. Now, he said, state officials have notified the borough that the town can receive state aid during a given year, only on work which it has listed with the state by January 1. He said, as an example, extension of Fairview Ave. beyond King St. will have to wait until 1964 because it is not ready for ordination and thus cannot be listed with the state for 1963 work.

Winebrenner reported the ten-year-old borough roller is in need of repair. Council asked him to secure estimates of the cost of repair and of how much a new roller would cost if the present one is traded in.

Council vote to invest $50,000 in certificates of deposit in a local bank.

The amount had previously been invested in U.S. Treasury bonds. Finance Chairman John Welshonce said he had discussed with a local banker the best way to invest the money and it was suggested that it be divided into four amounts of $12,500 each and invested in a three-month certificate, another for six months, another for nine months and another for a year. The 12-month certificates will pay four per cent interest, the six and nine-months three per cent and the three-month two and one half per cent. As the three, six and nine-month certificates are paid the sum, or portion thereof, should be reinvested in 12-month certificates so that council would be eventually obtaining four per cent on all of the money, but at the same time have money coming in each three months if it is needed at that time. Council's vote agreed to follow that plan, which would provide the liquidity of the treasury notes plus more interest, according to Welshonce.

Fred Hummelbaugh told council there "are a lot of complaints about mosquitoes" and suggested that council consider changing its method of combating mosquitoes. He suggested that a "man or men" be hired to oil breeding places instead of having the town sprayed periodically during the summer. Council President Glenn Guise said that council is planning to change its spray material next year. Hummelbaugh said that "does not serve the purpose."

Mr. Shnoo's Zoo

BY LUCRECE BEALE

Chapter Two
MR. SHNOO'S DECISION
"WHAT can it mean?" gasped Mr. Shnoo staring at the letter from S. Claus at Santa Land. "Why not open it and see?" said Crookshank stiffly.

Mr. Shnoo tried but his fingers trembled so he could hardly hold the letter, let alone open it.

"Give it to me," snapped Crookshank. "I'll open it."

"Yes, yes," murmured Mr. Shnoo agitatedly. "Dear me, I am shaking all over!"

"You are like a child," taunted Crookshank. "You believe anything." He ripped open the envelope and drew out a letter written in red ink on the back of a piece of green and white striped wrapping paper. He read in silence.

Mr. Shnoo cried, "Out loud! Read it out loud!"

Crookshank made a face and read aloud "Dear Shnellingham Shnoo."

"Think of that!" interrupted Mr. Shnoo. "My whole name!"

"Do you want to hear it or not?" asked Crookshank rudely.

"Yes, yes, Read on!"

"Dear Shnellingham Shnoo, I have heard that you have a fine zoo and that there is nothing you cannot do with animals. If this is so I hope you will be willing to help me for I have a very serious problem."

"As you perhaps know, I have eight reindeer who fly me around the world each Christmas Eve. These deer are wonderful creatures but they have been serving me for over 1,000 years and now, alas, old age is affecting them and I fear they will be unable to make the long trip again."

"I must have eight new reindeer before Christmas. Would it be possible for you to let me borrow them from your zoo? I know this is asking a great deal because I'm sure you hate to let your pets out of sight. However, I promise I will take good care of them and they will be happy."

"Sincerely,
S. Claus"

Mr. Shnoo beamed. "Think of it!" He took the letter from Crookshank and read the whole thing through again. When he reached the end, he said "But there's a postscript! You didn't read that!"

"It's a humbug!" sniffed Crookshank.

"P.S." read Mr. Shnoo aloud. "Maybe I can be of help to you sometime if you should ever need me, Santa."

"Hump!" said Crookshank. "The honor of it! My reindeer to carry Christmas all over the world!"

"Are you mad?" exclaimed Crookshank.

"I must go and tell them at once," said Mr. Shnoo.

"You are out of your head!" sneered Crookshank.

"What do you mean?" asked Mr. Shnoo.

"Idiot!" yelled Crookshank. "Your reindeer can't fly!"

Mr. Shnoo's face fell. He sat down on a bench. "I hadn't thought of that."

He scratched his head. He chewed on the knuckle of his right thumb. He crossed his legs and jiggled his left foot. He screwed up his eyes and twisted up his mouth.

This is the way Mr. Shnoo acted when he was thinking. Usually it helped him to get his thoughts in order. It was especially useful when he had a decision to make.

But today nothing helped. Finally he got up and said, "I think I'll go have a look at them."

Off he went to the reindeer enclosure with Crookshank tagging along behind him. Mr. Shnoo leaned against the fence and gazed at the deer. They were not very handsome. They were short and heavy and thick-bodied. But their antlers were magnificent and they were brave and gentle creatures.

Mr. Shnoo's face began to work. He wound one leg around the other and jiggled his elbows. He was thinking again.

Suddenly he straightened. "I'm sending a message to S. Claus," he said. "I'll tell him he can use my deer."

"But—" began Crookshank.

Mr. Shnoo smiled and rolled up his sleeves. "No buts," said he. "I shall TEACH them to fly!"

A Lovelier You

AIR LIFT. The beauty problem of a sagging jawline can begin to plague a woman any time after her mid-thirties. And if the condition is left to itself, it will worsen. What a pity, when the simplest measure would hold the line.

Just the practice of puffing out your cheeks at odd moments works wonders to firm, up lax flesh and keep it firm. You merely take in all the air you can, close your mouth, blow out your cheeks until they look like twin balloons and then exhale slowly through slightly parted lips.

For double value, perform the routine when you apply emollients at bedtime. The muscles are then stimulated by touch as well as activity. In any area of the body, lazy muscles are most quickly reactivated by the combination of exercise and massage. And remember, the tone of the skin is dependent on the tone of the muscles.

If you are really serious about results, add a toning lotion to the toning effects of the exercise-emollient routine. The procedure is this: Make a large patten of absorbent cotton, wring it out in your lotion and then repeatedly "spank" the face upward from the collarbones—with your cheeks blown out all the while. The best time is before a make-up, after the skin is cleansed and before the application of cosmetics.

For the doing, you will find laugh lines and throat grooves are alleviated. Along with the original problem!

CREPEY THROAT AND CHIN To firm and uplift sagging facial muscles and flesh, use my four-way method. It works wonders through corrective exercise, posture, skin care and make-up. Procedures are detailed in the leaflet, "BANISH CREPEY THROAT & CHIN." For your copy, write Mary Sue Miller, Box 138, The Gettysburg Times, Dundee, Ill., enclosing 10 cents in coin and a large self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Emergencies Dictate Nation's News Policy

By JAMES MARLOW

Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP) — The shades are down, and have been for quite a while, on information the government is willing to make public. At this time they're not all the way down. They go down sharply in times of overseas crisis.

They did in both world wars in the Korean War, when the American U2 plane was shot down over the Soviet Union in 1960, at the time of the disastrous Cuban invasion of 1961, and more recently in the Cuban tension of 1962.

The Truman, Eisenhower and Kennedy administrations have all been involved—when there was crisis and when there wasn't any.

RESTRICTIONS EASED
President Kennedy's administration got sharp news media criticism for its handling of information during the October-November Cuban affair. It began easing up on those particular restrictions when the heat died down.

Then late last week Rep. John E. Moss of California, a member of Kennedy's own Democratic party and chairman of the House subcommittee on information, hit the President and his advisers for management of the news.

He cited examples of news restrictions not connected with Cuba or crises at all:

Restrictions on covering underground nuclear tests in Nevada, secrecy about all military space activities, a recent blackout on information about Russian satellite efforts although the Russians know all about their own satellites.

WHITE HOUSE CONTROL
"To a remarkable degree," Moss said, "the White House itself is retaining direct control over the handling of government information. Important news-making events, ranging from a backstage greeting (by Kennedy) to members of Russia's Bolshoi Ballet to the bomb tests in the Pacific are under firm presidential control."

"This is not all bad, nor is it all to the good. When we realize what sort of news management is going on in Washington today, we'd better start considering what—if anything—we're going to do about it."

REPORTS INTERVIEWS
Almost exactly a month before Moss, on Nov. 1, banged the Department for an order requiring all its officials to report promptly to the Pentagon's public relations office the substance of all interviews with newsmen.

Arthur Sylvester, assistant secretary of defense in charge of public affairs, had put out the order Oct. 27. Moss didn't budge him.

When the National Editorial Association on Nov. 17 passed a resolution protesting Pentagon news policies, Sylvester 10 days later replied there had been a "great deal of twaddle" about his order.

But the whole reason for news restrictions—or lack of reason—lies between war and waddle, between necessity and nonsense. It takes these main forms:

Withholding news which truly might endanger national security. No one quarrels in such a case, when it's real. Sometimes it isn't.

Because it is arbitrary to call some information secret when it isn't necessary, there is an unrelenting need for public vigilance. This is the root of the endless dispute with government.

CHECK SUBORDINATES
Then there is the Sylvester system of compelling officials to report on their conversations with newsmen. This may help keep top Pentagon officials informed on what their subordinates are saying.

But it cannot help but discourage those subordinates from talking to newsmen altogether. Having to report on what was said means extra work and could cause them difficulty if the boss-man thinks they talked too much.

Withholding information is also one of the neatest ways to cover mistakes. Kennedy said his administration would not conceal its mistakes. He himself frankly took the blame for the Cuban invasion fiasco.

PROTECTS AIDES
(Yet, by his doing so, the public was deprived of knowing who among his aides goofed.)

The House Government Operations Committee, parent group of Moss' subcommittee, said in 1960 secrecy is "the first refuge of incompetents."

The very times in which we live complicate and torture the problem of withholding news. It is understandable in wartime. It is not at all understandable in peacetime. But we are in a period that is neither war nor peace.

In short, this is a moment in history when the government can release more news than it could during war but less than it could in peace.

Presidents Truman, Eisenhower and Kennedy have all had to order some restraints in this cold war period but ever since Truman began it the government has been criticized for pulling the shades down too far for the national good.

COURT TO RULE ON RED'S RIGHT

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court agreed Monday to rule on whether Henry Winston, former organizational secretary for the Communist party, may sue the government for $1 million damages.

Winston contended he suffered total blindness because of delay and negligence in the diagnosis and removal of a brain tumor while he was a prisoner in the federal penitentiary at Terre Haute, Ind.

The U.S. Circuit Court in a 5-4 decision said Winston could sue the government under the Tort Claims Act. The act permits suits for injuries and losses caused by negligent acts or omission of acts by any government employee.

Haute, Ind. He was convicted in 1949 with other Communist leaders on charges of conspiring to teach and advocate violent overthrow of the government. Winston's sentence was five years' imprisonment. He got an additional three years for contempt for going into hiding in an effort to escape imprisonment. He eventually started serving his prison term in 1951. Later, his sentence was commuted because of blindness and his physical condition.

Mr. Shnoo's Zoo

BY LUCRECE BEALE

Chapter Two
MR. SHNOO'S DECISION
"WHAT can it mean?" gasped Mr. Shnoo staring at the letter from S. Claus at Santa Land.

"Why not open it and see?" said Crookshank stiffly.

Mr. Shnoo tried but his fingers trembled so he could hardly hold the letter, let alone open it.

"Give it to me," snapped Crookshank. "I'll open it."

"Yes yes," murmured Mr. Shnoo agitatedly. "Dear me, I am shaking a bit over it."

"You are like a child," taunted Crookshank. "You believe anything."

He ripped open the envelope and drew out a letter written in red ink on the back of a piece of green and white striped wrapping paper. He read in silence.

Mr. Shnoo cried, "Out loud! Read it out loud!"

Crookshank made a face and read aloud "Dear Shnellingham Shnoo."

"Think of that!" interrupted Mr. Shnoo. "My whole name!"

"Do you want to hear it or not?" asked Crookshank rudely.

"Yes, yes. Read on!"

"Dear Shnellingham Shnoo, 'I have heard that you have a fine zoo and that there is nothing you cannot do with animals. If this is so I hope you will be willing to help me for I have a very serious problem."

"As you perhaps know, I have eight reindeer who fly me around the world each Christmas Eve. These deer are wonderful creatures but they have been serving me for over 1,000 years and now, alas, old age is affecting them and I fear they will be unable to make the long trip again."

"I must have eight new reindeer before Christmas. Would it be possible for you to let me borrow them from your zoo? I know this is asking a great deal because I'm sure you hate to let your pets out of sight. However, I promise I will take good care of them and they will be happy."

"Sincerely,
"S. Claus."

Mr. Shnoo beamed. "Think of it!"

He scratched his head. He chewed on the knuckle of his right thumb. He crossed his legs and jiggled his left foot. He screwed up his eyes and twisted up his mouth.

This is the way Mr. Shnoo acted when he was thinking. Usually it helped him to get his thoughts in order. It was especially useful when he had a decision to make.

But today nothing helped. Finally he got up and said, "I think I'll go have a look at them."

Off he went to the reindeer enclosure with Crookshank tagging along behind him. Mr. Shnoo leaned against the fence and gazed at the deer. They were not very handsome. They were short and heavy and thick-bodied. But their antlers were magnificent and they were brave and gentle creatures.

Mr. Shnoo's face began to work. He wound one leg around the other and jiggled his elbows. He was thinking again.

Suddenly he straightened. "I'm sending a message to S. Claus," he said. "I'll tell him he can use my deer."

"But—" began Crookshank.

Mr. Shnoo smiled and rolled up his sleeves. "No buts," said he. "I shall TEACH them to fly!"

Tomorrow: Flying Lessons.

Mr. Shnoo read the letter from Santa Claus.

A Lovelier You

BY MARY SUE MILLER

AIR LIFT. The beauty problem of a sagging jawline can begin to plague a woman any time after her mid-thirties. And if the condition is left to itself, it will worsen. What a pity, when the simplest measure would hold the line.

Just the practice of puffing out your cheeks at odd moments works wonders to firm up lax flesh and keep it firm. You merely take in all the air you can, close your mouth, blow out your cheeks until they look like twin balloons and then exhale slowly through slightly parted lips.

For double value, perform the routine when you apply emollients at bedtime. The muscles are then stimulated by touch as well as activity. In any area of the body, lazy muscles are most quickly reactivated by the combination of exercise and massage. And remember, the tone of the skin is dependent on the tone of the muscles.

If you are really serious about results, add a toning lotion to the toning effects of the exercise-emollient routine. The procedure is this: Make a large pater of absorbent cotton, wring it out in your lotion and then repeatedly "spank" the face upward from the collarbones—with your cheeks blown out all the while. The best time is before a make-up, after the skin is cleansed and before the application of cosmetics.

For the doing, you will find laugh lines and throat grooves are alleviated. Along with the original problem!

CREPEY THROAT AND CHIN
To firm and uplift sagging facial muscles and flesh, use my four-way method. It works wonders through corrective exercise, posture, skin care and make-up. Procedures are detailed in the leaflet, "BANISH CREPEY THROAT & CHIN." condition is left to itself, it will worsen. What a pity, when the simplest measure would hold the line.

Just the practice of puffing out your cheeks at odd moments works wonders to firm up lax flesh and keep it firm. You merely take in all the air you can, close your mouth, blow out your cheeks until they look like twin balloons and then exhale slowly through slightly parted lips.

For double value, perform the routine when you apply emollients at bedtime. The muscles are then stimulated by touch as well as activity. In any area of the body, lazy muscles are most quickly reactivated by the combination of exercise and massage. And remember, the tone of the skin is dependent on the tone of the muscles.

If you are really serious about results, add a toning lotion to the toning effects of the exercise-emollient routine. The procedure is this: Make a large pater of absorbent cotton, wring it out in your lotion and then repeatedly "spank" the face upward from the collarbones—with your cheeks blown out all the while. The best time is before a make-up, after the skin is cleansed and before the application of cosmetics.

For the doing, you will find laugh lines and throat grooves are alleviated. Along with the original problem!

CREPEY THROAT AND CHIN
To firm and uplift sagging facial muscles and flesh, use my four-way method. It works wonders through corrective exercise, posture, skin care and make-up. Procedures are detailed in the leaflet, "BANISH CREPEY THROAT & CHIN." For your copy, write Mary Sue Miller, Box 156, The Gettysburg Times, Dundee, Ill., enclosing 10 cents in coin and a large self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Emergencies Dictate Nation's News Policy

By JAMES MARLOW

Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP) — The shades are down, and have been for quite a while, on information: the government is willing to make public. At this time they're not all the way down. They go down sharply in times of overseas crisis.

They did in both world wars in the Korean War, when the American U2 plane was shot down over the Soviet Union in 1960, a the time of the disastrous Cuban invasion of 1961, and more recently in the Cuban tension of 1962.

The Truman, Eisenhower and Kennedy administrations have all been involved—when there was crisis and when there wasn't any.

RESTRICTIONS EASED
President Kennedy's administration got sharp news media criticism for its handling of information during the October-November Cuban affair. It began easing up on those particular restrictions when the heat died down.

Then late last week Rep. John E. Moss of California, a member of Kennedy's own Democratic party and chairman of the House subcommittee on information, hit at the President and his advisers for management of the news.

He cited examples of news restrictions not connected with Cuba or crises at all:

Restrictions on covering underground nuclear tests in Nevada, secrecy about all military space activities, a recent blackout on information about Russian satellite efforts although the Russians know all about their own satellites.

WHITE HOUSE CONTROL
"To a remarkable degree," Moss said, "the White House itself is retaining direct control over the handling of government information. Important news-making events, ranging from a backstage greeting (by Kennedy) to members of Russia's Bolshoi Ballet to the bomb tests in the Pacific are under firm presidential control."

"This is not all bad, nor is it all to the good. When we realize what sort of news management is going on in Washington today, we'd better start considering what—if anything—we're going to do about it."

REPORTS INTERVIEWS
Almost exactly a month before Moss, on Nov. 1, banged the Defense Department for an order requiring all its officials to report promptly to the Pentagon's public relations office the substance of all interviews with newsmen.

Arthur Sylvester, assistant secretary of defense in charge of public affairs, had put out the order Oct. 27. Moss didn't budge him.

When the National Editorial Association on Nov. 17 passed a resolution protesting Pentagon news policies, Sylvester 10 days later replied there had been a "great deal of twaddle" about his order.

But the whole reason for news restrictions—or lack of reason—lies between war and twaddle, between necessity and nonsense. It takes these main forms:

Withholding news which truly might endanger national security. No one quarrels in such a case, when it's real. Sometimes it isn't.

Because it is arbitrary to call some information secret when it isn't necessary, there is an unrelenting need for public vigilance. This is the root of the endless dispute with government.

CHECK SUBORDINATES
Then there is the Sylvester system of compelling officials to report on their conversations with newsmen. This may help keep top Pentagon officials informed on what their subordinates are saying.

But it cannot help but discourage those subordinates from talking to newsmen altogether. Having to report on what was said means extra work and could cause them difficulty if the boss-man thinks they talked too much.

Withholding information is also one of the neatest ways to cover mistakes. Kennedy said his administration would not conceal its mistakes. He himself frankly took the blame for the Cuban invasion fiasco.

PROTECTS AIDES
(Yet, by his doing so, the public was deprived of knowing who among his aides goofed.)

The House Government Operations Committee, parent group of Moss' subcommittee, said in 1960 secrecy is "the first refuge of incompetents."

The very times in which we live complicate and torture the problem of withholding news. It is understandable in wartime. It is not at all understandable in peacetime. But we are in a period that is neither war nor peace.

In short, this is a moment in history when the government can release more news than it could

COURT TO RULE ON RED'S RIGHT

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court agreed Monday to rule on whether Henry Winston, former organizational secretary for the Communist party, may sue the government for $1 million damages.

Winston contended he suffered total blindness because of delay and negligence in the diagnosis and removal of a brain tumor while he was a prisoner in the federal penitentiary at Terre Haute, Ind.

He was convicted in 1949 with other Communist leaders on charges of conspiring to teach and advocate violent overthrow of the government. Winston's sentence was five years' imprisonment. He got an additional three years for contempt for going into hiding in an effort to escape imprisonment. He eventually started serving his prison term in 1951. Later, his sentence was commuted because of blindness and his physical condition.

The U.S. Circuit Court in a 5-4 decision said Winston could sue the government under the Tort Claims Act. The act permits suits for injuries and losses caused by negligent acts or omission of acts by any government employee.

NEW TAX RULES ATTACKED BY C.C. LEADERS

By HARRY KELLY

WASHINGTON (AP) — A U.S. Chamber of Commerce spokesman today branded proposed new tax regulations on expense accounts "a callous invasion of privacy in collecting taxes."

Chamber director Joel Barlow told an Internal Revenue Service hearing that the proposals which could put a crimp in deductions for business travel and entertainment would pose "impossible administrative requirements."

In the first of two days of hearings on the regulations, Barlow, a Washington lawyer, said in prepared testimony that the proposals would require endless and costly detailed recordkeeping and duplication of records.

TO END ABUSES

"They also move in the direction of requiring sworn statements, corroborating witnesses, and an almost impossible burden of proof in an increasing number of tax cases, Congress itself has repeatedly refused to require unreasonable disclosures, such as those proposed, and such callous invasion of privacy in collecting taxes," Barlow said.

IRS Commissioner Mortimer M. Caplin, who has said he believes the regulations would put an end to "expense account living," was expected to stress that the proposals are not final and will be

CONSERVATIVE GOP CAMP TO FIGHT ROCKY

WASHINGTON (AP) — Conservative Republicans have begun a determined drive to keep the 1964 presidential nomination from going to Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York. Their favorite is Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona.

The Associated Press learned Monday that between 30 and 50 Republicans, from all over the country, met secretly in Chicago Sunday.

Possibly because it was an informal meeting, it still wasn't too clear what they did.

PRO-GOLDWATER

One report was that $250,000 was pledged as a start on a $3-million campaign fund.

Another report was that this was only an exploratory meeting, and that little definite was accomplished. One of the organizers said "I've attended dozens of meetings like this, and nothing ever came of them."

It was learned from several of those who were there that the sentiment was distinctly pro-Goldwater and anti-Rockefeller.

Goldwater said Monday night in Phoenix he didn't know a thing about the meeting.

He told a newsman: "I don't know who the group was, where they met or what it's all about. I did see or hear something about it today, but I don't know a thing. I still plan to run for the Senate two years from now."

But he added he might not "since things change and it's too early to be absolutely certain."

In New York, Rockefeller had no comment.

Some of those who attended the Chicago meeting also declined comment.

But Rep. John Ashbrook, R. Ohio, said: "The real purpose of the meeting was an effort to consolidate the Republican conservative groups around the country to make sure we have a candidate in 1964. Of course, Sen. Goldwater is the frontrunner."

"There are those of us who believe Gov. Rockefeller is the one Republican who could not win in 1964."

TWO WATTLES AND DOGFOOD
ST. LOUIS (AP) — The St. Louis Zoo has a two-wattled cassowary now.

It is an ostrich-like bird that can't fly and likes dogfood. For several years the zoo people thought they had only a one-wattled cassowary, a different species.

But recently a second wattle appeared on the zoo's female bird.

The addition of the second wattle also caused a change in the bird's formal name. Now it's a casarius bicarunculatus bicarunculatus. Before it had only one bicarunculatus in its title.

Richter said.

CLAIMS SHAKEDOWN
Hurwitz corroborated the testimony as did Mrs. Lavinsky.

Several days after the girl had been in his office, Richter said, he heard "a couple was going around town talking about me."

Later, he said, Edward Eglowsky, a student at Drexel Institute of Technology who lives in the same apartment house as Miss Cronrath, contacted him and asked for $1,200 to pay school bills.

The next night, Richter said, the young man returned and asked for $50,000 in return for the girl's silence.

Miss Cronrath denied any knowledge of a shakedown attempt.

SAFE DRIVING TIPS

KEEP PENNSYLVANIA "THE SAFE DRIVER STATE"

By Maintaining Your Visibility

You must be able to see trouble to avoid it, and ice or snow on your car's windows can cut down your visibility dangerously. Don't drive unless you can see properly.

While the engine warms up, spend the few moments it takes to clear snow and ice from all the windows—front, back and both sides.

If every motorist had observed this sensible suggestion last year, 19,986 accidents, and 176 fatal accidents might have been avoided!

WILL PRESENT REBUTTAL IN MORALS TRIAL

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Rebuttal witnesses were called to testify today in the morals trial of attorney Nathaniel B. Richter, accused by a 19-year-old girl of making lewd advances.

Asst. Dist. Atty. Thomas Shimos indicated the witnesses would rebut testimony by Richter and others Monday that he at no time was alone in his Philadelphia office when the alleged advances were made.

The 53-year-old lawyer, who lives in suburban Merion, is accused by Judilee Cronath of making advances while he interviewed her for a job in his office the past Sept. 7.

NEW TAX RULES ATTACKED BY C.C. LEADERS

By HARRY KELLY
WASHINGTON (AP) — A U.S. Chamber of Commerce spokesman today branded proposed new tax regulations on expense accounts "a callous invasion of privacy in collecting taxes."

Chamber director Joel Barlow told an Internal Revenue Service hearing that the proposals which could put a crimp in deductions for business travel and entertainment would pose "impossible administrative requirements."

In the first of two days of hearings on the regulations, Barlow, a Washington lawyer, said in prepared testimony that the proposals would require endless and costly detailed recordkeeping and duplication of records.

"They also move in the direction of requiring sworn statements, collaborating witnesses, and an almost impossible burden of proof in an increasing number of tax cases, Congress itself has repeatedly refused to require unreasonable disclosures, such as those proposed, and such callous invasion of privacy in collecting taxes," Barlow said.

IRS Commissioner Mortimer M. Caplin, who has said he believes the regulations would put an end to "expense account living," was expected to stress that the proposals are not final and will be

CONSERVATIVE GOP CAMP TO FIGHT ROCKY

WASHINGTON (AP)—Conservative Republicans have begun a determined drive to keep the 1964 presidential nomination from going to Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York. Their favorite is Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona.

The Associated Press learned Monday that between 30 and 50 Republicans, from all over the country, met secretly in Chicago Sunday.

Possibly because it was an informal meeting, it still wasn't too clear what they did.

PRO-GOLDWATER
One report was that $250,000 was pledged as a start on a $3-million campaign fund.

Another report was that this was only an exploratory meeting, and that little definite was accomplished. One of the organizers said "I've attended dozens of meetings like this, and nothing ever came of them."

It was learned from several of those who were there that the sentiment was distinctly pro-Goldwater and anti-Rockefeller.

Goldwater said Monday night in Phoenix he didn't know a thing about the meeting.

He told a newsman: "I don't know who the group was, where they met or what it's all about. I did see or hear something about it today, but I don't know a thing. I still plan to run for the Senate two years from now."

But he added he might not "since things change and it's too early to be absolutely certain."

In New York, Rockefeller had no comment.

STATES THE CASE
Some of those who attended the Chicago meeting also declined comment.

But Rep. John Ashbrook, R-Ohio, said: "The real purpose of the meeting was an effort to consolidate the Republican conservative groups around the country to make sure we have a candidate in 1964. Of course, Sen. Goldwater is the frontrunner."

"There are those of us who believe Gov. Rockefeller is the one Republican who could not win in 1964."

SAFE DRIVING TIPS

KEEP PENNSYLVANIA "THE SAFE DRIVER STATE"

By Maintaining Your Visibility

You must be able to see trouble to avoid it, and ice or snow on your car's windows can cut down your visibility dangerously. Don't drive unless you can see properly.

While the engine warms up, spend the few moments it takes to clear snow and ice from all the windows—front, back and both sides.

If every motorist had observed this sensible suggestion last year, 19,986 accidents, and 176 fatal accidents might have been avoided!

WILL PRESENT REBUTTAL IN MORALS TRIAL

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Rebuttal witnesses were called to testify today in the morals trial of attorney Nathaniel B. Richter, accused by a 19-year-old girl of making lewd advances.

Asst. Dist. Atty. Thomas Shimos indicated the witnesses would rebut testimony by Richter and others Monday that he at no time was alone in his Philadelphia office when the alleged advances were made.

The 53-year-old lawyer, who lives in suburban Merion, is accused by Judice Cronath of making advances while he interviewed her for a job in his office the past Sept. 7.

CLAIMS NOT ALONE
She testified before Municipal Judge Emmanuel Belloff, who is hearing the case without a jury, that no one else was present when Richter made the advances. She said she broke into hysterics and the attorney called a friend to take her home.

Richter, however, said he and Miss Cronath visited a hospitalized friend of his that afternoon and upon returning to the office met Albert Hurwitz, a client, in the lobby.

He said Hurwitz accompanied them upstairs and remained with them. Mrs. Eleanor Lavinsky, a secretary, was also in the office.

Worry of FALSE TEETH
Slipping or Irritating?

Don't be embarrassed by loose false teeth slipping, dropping or wobbling when you eat, talk or laugh. Just sprinkle a little FASTEETH on your plates. This pleasant powder gives a remarkable sense of added comfort and security by holding plates more firmly. No gummy, goopy, pasty taste or feeling. It's alkaline (non-acid). Get FASTEETH at any drug counter.

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The St. Louis Zoo has a two-wattled cassowary now.

It is an ostrich-like bird that can't fly and likes dogfood.

For several years the zoo people thought they had only a one-wattled cassowary, a different species.

But recently a second wattled appeared on the zoo's female bird.

The addition of the second wattled also caused a change in the bird's formal name. Now it's a casuaris, bicarunculatus bicarunculatus. Before it had only one bicarunculatus in its title.

Richter said.

CLAIMS SHAKEDOWN
Hurwitz corroborated the testimony as did Mrs. Lavinsky.

Several days after the girl had been in his office, Richter said, he heard "a couple was going around town talking about me."

Later, he said, Edward Glow-sky, a student at Drexel Institute of Technology who lives in the same apartment house as Miss Cronath, contacted him and asked for $1,200 to pay school bills.

The next night, Richter said, the young man returned and asked for $50,000 in return for the girl's silence.

Miss Cronath denied any knowledge of a shakedown attempt.

RUSSIA WON'T SHARE COST OF CONGO FORCES

By TOM HOGE

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) —The Soviet Union has told the United Nations once more it has no intention of sharing the huge cost of U.N. forces in the Congo and the Middle East despite warnings that refusal could bankrupt the United Nations.

Soviet delegate Pavel M. Tchernyshev told the 110-nation budgetary committee Monday that the Soviet Union rejects responsibility for the two peace-keeping operations because they were approved by the General Assembly instead of the Security Council, where the Soviets have a veto.

"This has been and continues to be the position of the Soviet Union," Tchernyshev declared.

FOLLOWS WARNING

The Russian rejection came after Secretary-General U Thant and U.S. delegate Philip M. Klutznick both warned that the United Nations is headed for financial disaster unless members abandon political considerations and find a formula for raising the money. The committee began debate on a U.S. resolution calling for acceptance of the World Court's opinion that costs of maintaining the two forces come under "expenses of the organization" that the U.N. charter says shall be shared by all members. Thant asserted that the United Nations' financial plight "transcends political controversy." INEFFECTIVE AS BANKRUPT "A financially bankrupt United Nations would be an ineffective United Nations," he said, "if indeed it could survive on such a basis."

The secretary-general recalled that member states have agreed that the United Nations is indispensable. To resolve its financial crisis would "represent a vote of confidence on its future," he said. Klutznick said it was not a question of what was the right or wrong method of providing the money.

$130 MILLION IN RED

"What we now do must be guided by only one consideration—nurturing this institution," he said.

"We don't believe it is the intent of any member to bankrupt the United Nations. Whatever our differences, we share a deep-rooted determination to keep life in the United Nations."

The United Nations is about $130 million in the red on the Congo operation, which costs about $10 million a month. Thant has raised $150 million on a $200-million bond issue. But the whole amount will carry the United Nations only until next April.

Woman Lawyer Dies From Burns

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The body of Ruth Walker, a 39-year-old lawyer, was found in her Germantown apartment Monday night. The police said she apparently died several days ago from burns.

The body was found by a doorman at her apartment building who had not seen her for several days.

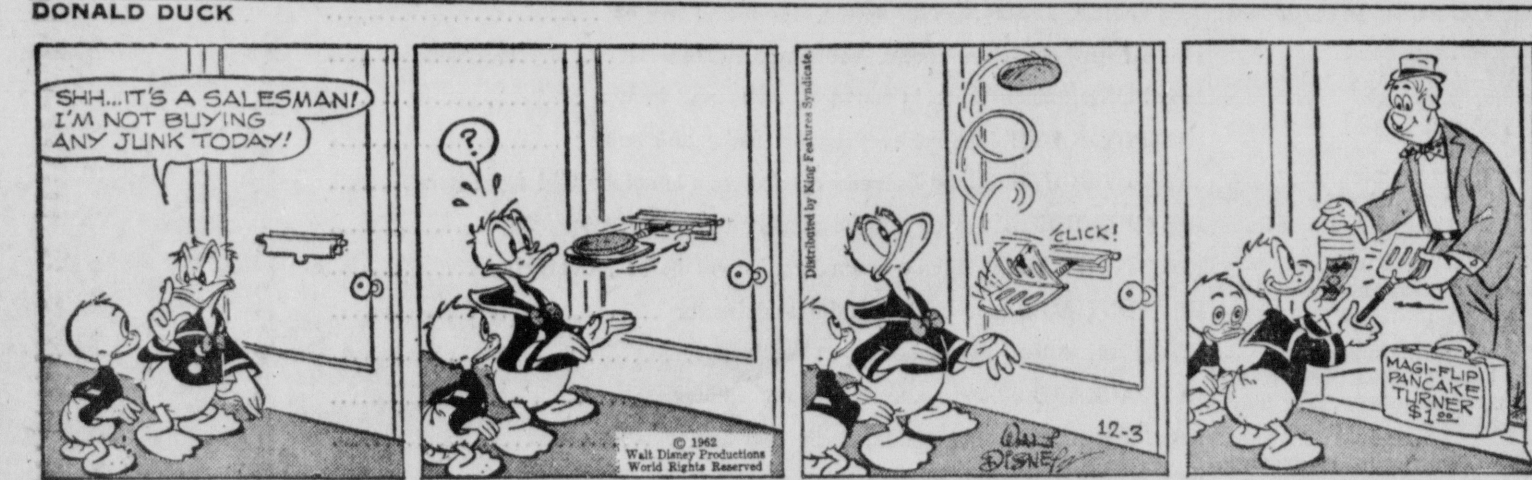

The police said Miss Walker had severe burns of the upper body and arms. There was a trail of burned material, and the police said they believed she had accidentally set her night clothes afire.

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Jack Hart, Chester, Pa., ranks fourth in the 1962 NASCAR's sportsman division. Hart had 3,584 points. The winner was Rene Charland, 34, of Agawam, Mass., with 5,709 points.

RUSSIA WON'T SHARE COST OF CONGO FORCES

By TOM HOGE
UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) —The Soviet Union has told the United Nations once more it has no intention of sharing the huge cost of U.N. forces in the Congo and the Middle East despite warnings that refusal could bankrupt the United Nations.
Soviet delegate Pavel M. Tchernyshev told the 110-nation budgetary committee Monday that the Soviet Union rejects responsibility for the two peace-keeping operations because they were approved by the General Assembly instead of the Security Council, where the Soviets have a veto.
"This has been and continues to be the position of the Soviet Union," Tchernyshev declared.
FOLLOWS WARNING
The Russian rejection came after Secretary-General U Thant and U.S. delegate Philip M. Klutznick both warned that the United Nations is headed for financial disaster unless members abandon political considerations and find a formula for raising the money.
The committee began debate on a U.S. resolution calling for acceptance of the World Court's opinion that costs of maintaining the two forces come under "expenses of the organization" that the U.N. charter says shall be shared by all members.

Thant asserted that the United Nations' financial plight "transcends political controversy."
INEFFECTIVE AS BANKRUPT
"A financially bankrupt United Nations would be an ineffective United Nations," he said, "if indeed it could survive on such a basis."
The secretary-general recalled that member states have agreed that the United Nations is indispensable. To resolve its financial crisis would "represent a vote of confidence on its future," he said.
Klutznick said it was not a question of what was the right or wrong method of providing the money.
$130 MILLION IN RED
"What we now do must be guided by only one consideration—nurturing this institution," he said.
"We don't believe it is the intent of any member to bankrupt the United Nations. Whatever our differences, we share a deep-rooted determination to keep life in the United Nations."
The United Nations is about $130 million in the red on the Congo operation, which costs about $10 million a month. Thant has raised $150 million on a $200-million bond issue. But the whole amount will carry the United Nations only until next April.
